Dear Sir,

Allow me to convey to you our heartfelt gratitude and thanks on behalf of the Dawn of India and the Association of Indian Culture which it represents for your kind interest and unflinching sympathy and ungrudging support by way of your illuminating contributions to the journal every month. It is heartening to find that our ideas and ideals have secured for us in the corner of your heart a very soft place and for which I again thank you. We would feel it a honour if you kindly allow your name to be associated with the journal as one of its patrons and advisers. As ours is also the ideal of truth and beauty we hope and believe that you will kindly lend your name to our mission which we are pursuing through the columns of the journal and remain associated with us. We also hope and pray that you will send us regularly as now your contributions of abiding interest and thus help us to create a high standard for clean thinking.

Thanking you heartily once again and awaiting your kind approval and response hereto.

Yours sincerely,

EDITOR.
