Dear Miss Linden:

We have your letter of May 28 concerning the book, TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA.

We will plan to include the picture "Women of Hor" as you have indicated in the list of illustrations. The plate is a bit small to appear as a single page insert but there is nothing we can do about that now. Will you please return to us the copy for the list of illustrations so that we may proceed to set it in type.

Sincerely yours,

Manager of the Manufacturing Department

Dear Mr. Bailey:

Inclosed is the list of illustrations for the book, TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA, also the duplicate page proofs(pp. 67, 68, 69). In regardion with the latter, I should like to bring to your attention that "Hutukhtu" in Chapter 7 is not capitalized; I let this stand since the word appeared quite frequently, and since "Bogdo Gegen", "Tashi Lama" etc. were of course not estalized; however, possibly you would consider "Hutukhtu" analogous to "Ti-t'ai" and "Tao-t'ai" as all of these are bitlastitles.

on the list of illustrations, you will note that I have inserted the caption of the end-piece on page 372. I noticed in the MACHU PICCHU sent me as a guide by the Editorial Department, that the map was placed after the last page of the index. Tould you think this advisable for Dr. de Roerich's book? In this case I could not give the page now, as I have not received page-proofs on the index. However, I send you the list at this time.

Dear Miss Linden:

Again I must have recourse to your help and request you to get for us the original set of photographs detained by the "Yale University Press". Mr. Geuthner has declined to buy the electrotypes which were offered to him by the "Yale Press" as the price of these electrotypes was indeed much too expensive, to say nothing of the custom duties and postage. Mr. Geuthner is writing directly to Mr. Donaldson of the "Yale Press", but it would be very useful if you were to apply also for the original photographs. There is no reason now for the "Yale Press" to keep these photographs further. On the other hand the absence of the photographs prevents the publication of the French edition of "TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA". Otherwise all the questions concerning the French Edition of Dr. Georges de Roerich's work

Doar Mr. Bailey:

We have received the proof of the index and illustrations. As we are working under great stress due to the publication of the Journal of Himalayan Research Institute, we would like to ask you by what date this material must be returned to you in order not to delay the publication of the book, "Trails to Inmost Asia." It would greatly facilitate our work here if we could postpone checking on the proof until next week; but we do not wish to delay the publication of the book.

Will you please let me know about this, Sincorely yours,

ALL MESSAGES TAKEN BY THIS COMPANY ARE SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS:

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it repeated, that is, telegraphed back to the originating office for comparison. For this, one-half the unrepeated message rate is charged in addition. Unless otherwise indicated on its face, this is an unrepeated message and paid for as such, in consideration whereof it is agreed between the sender of the message and this company as follows:

1. The company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the unrepeated-message rate beyond the sum of five hundred dollars; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the repeated-message rate beyond the sum of five thousand dollars, unless specially valued; nor in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its lines; nor for errors in cipher or obscure messages.

2. In any event the company shall not be liable for damages for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for the non-delivery, of any message, whether caused by the negligence of its servants or otherwise, beyond the sum of five thousand dollars, at which amount each message is deemed to be valued, unless a greater value is stated in writing by the sender thereof at the time the message is tendered for transmission, and unless the repeated-message rate is paid or agreed to be paid, and an additional charge equal to one-tenth of one percent of the amount by which such valuation shall exceed five thousand dollars.

3. The company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward this message over the lines of any other company when necessary to reach

4. Domestic messages and incoming cable messages will be delivered free within one-half mile of the company's office in towns of 5,000 population or less, and within one mile of such office in other cities or towns. Beyond these limits the company does not undertake to make delivery, but will, without liability, at the sender's request, as his agent and at his expense, endeavor to contract for him for such delivery at a reasonable price.

5. No responsibility attaches to this company concerning messages until the same are accepted at one of its transmitting offices; and if a message is sent to such office by one of the company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender.

6. The company will not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in any case where the claim is not presented in writing within sixty days after the message is filed with the company for transmission.

7. It is agreed that in any action by the company to recover the tolls for any message or messages the prompt and correct transmission and delivery thereof shall be presumed, subject to rebuttal by competent evidence.

8. Special terms governing the transmission of messages according to their classes, as enumerated below, shall apply to messages in each of such respective classes in addition to all the foregoing terms.

Dear Mr. Bailey:

I sent you the proofs for the index in time to reach you by Tuesday morning, as you requested, with the exception of two galleys on which I found it necessary to re-write a few paragraphs. These were sent under separate cover.

I must apologize for the appearance of the material; however, as you probably realize, their not have enough time.

Dr. Roerich has just written me that on page 362 the following correction should be made: "stang-lha" (line 7). I hope there is still a possibility of doing this. He mentions also that in the original manuscript the word appeared with a discritic mark: "stan-lha."

May I ask you to let me know whether the foot-note regarding "Ma-tsu Shan" was inserted on Page 207, as indicated on page-proofs of text?

Sincerely yours,

On the index, the following corrections will also have to be made:

To delete 242, under "Gold diggings To delete "Colonel", after "Portniagin"

To insert in proper place:

(1) Ti-srong de'ut sen, 353 (2) Hutukhtu, Chang-skya, 224; Ilgusan, 225, Jahantsa, 225; Je-tsün tam-pa, 132, 135ff, 153, 155

To correct, under "Gobi, legends, 199, 217ff

To insert, under "Floral designs" the figure 350

Should not "Ja Lama" precede "Jade, Kingdom of"

- To delete 11 after "Swastika", and insert instead: "See Svastika" Also, to insert 11 after "Svastika" Mr. Bailey: in the text the spelling "swastika2 is used only once, on page 11.
- (N.B.): To insert after "Ma Fu-hsin" the title Tit'ai in parentheses, also the figures 67ff and 106;
 To delete the separate entry for "Ma Tit'ai"

To insert the title Tao-t'ai after "Ma Shao-wu" and to correct 65-76

Herewith I am enclosing advanced proofs of the copy which will appear on the wrapper of "Trails to Inmost Asia."

The front of the wrapper will be a striking reproduction of the painting of the Palace at Leh. The first flap will carry the description and price as shown herewith, and the back of the wrapper is the page enclosed. It occurred to me that you and Miss Grant might be interested in seeing this descriptive material. I trust that it will meet with your approval.

Before so very long I shall hope to stop at the Museum and talk over some of the advance problems in connection with the publication and distribution of the volume.

Dear Mr. Bailey:

Thank you for sending us proof of the map for TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA. we will probably have it framed.

I noticed that a few of the namessare spelled differently than in the text -- Dungbura should be Duggbudra, for instance; Yarkand should be Yarkend; Ngawang Tseren is written Nga-Wang Tseren in the text; Taklamakan is one word in the text, and Sain Noin, two. I suppose it is too late to make any changes; if not, could you please let me know?

Thank you also for your letters in not . regard to the foot-note

Donaldson Yale University Fress New Haven, Connecticut Dear Mr. Donaldson: We appreciate your sending us the advance proof on the jacket material for TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA. In regard to the material for the first flap, Miss Grant asked me to inquire whether it would be possible to substitute the following for the last four lines: (created a) "veritable epic of Asia and its culture and which now hang in the Roerich Museum, New York, dedicated to his art. Other Illustrations are taken from unique photographs--all of which add immeasurably to the value and interest of the account." Miss Grant also asked me to inquire what discount you would allow the Roerich Museum Fress on the book. We have heard from Dr. Roerich that the question of electrotypes for the French edition had not been settled yet at the time of his letter. Mave you heard from M. Geuthner in regard to this? Miss Grant is anxious to speak with you concerning the publicity for the book, and we look forward to your coming in some time in this regard. SinceFely yours, Secretary to Dr. G. Roerich

We have your letter of June 30 concerning the map for TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA.

We are sorry that a few misspellings or spellings which do not conform to the text have crept into the map. You will recall, of course, that Dr. Roerich very carefully checked the preliminary blue print. It would not be possible to correct any of the spellings at this time without making a new plate which does not seem to us to be worthwhile. Will you please let us know what your opinion is on this.

Dear Miss Linden:

Thank you very much for your note of June 30 th with which you have returned the proof for the wrapper on Dr. Roerich's book. I am sorry to have to report that it was necessary for us to print up these wrappers before your note reached me, and we cannot therefore change the last paragraph in accordance with Miss Grant's suggestion. If the copy as it now stands contained any misstatements or inaccuracies, we should of course reprint the wrapper, but under the circumstances I feel quite sure that you will be willing to let it stand as it is.

On copies of the volume ordered by the Museum for resale, we shall be pleased to quote our maximum Trade discount of 40% from the list price.

On May 18th we wrote to Paul Geuthner acknowledging his acceptance of our terms for the publication of the French translation of "Trails to Inmost Asia" and quoting him a price on electrotypes of the illustrations, proofs of which we sent to him at the same time. We have not received any answer to that letter. Since the matter is now entirely in the hands of Geuthner, I do not feel that there is anything further which we can do.

I shall plan to come to the Museum some day this month in the hope of having a talk with you and with Miss Grant.

July 6, 1931 Mr. Norman V. Donaldson Yale University Press New Haven, Connecticut. Dear Mr. Donaldson: I have received a letter from Paris, from one of the officers of our French Association, in regard to the electro-types for the illustrations of the French Edition of TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA. It has been decided to use only 48 of the illustrations. However, the proofs which you were so kind as to send them, were so blurred that they are unable to determine which of the illustrations to use. They write us that only the photographs themselves would enable them to make their choice. I am bringing this to your attention, as it would be very regrettable if this French edition, which is so important to have ready in time for several scientific conventions, etc., would be delayed. I wonder whether it would be possible for you to send the photographs, which I am sure they will be prompt to return, if you so stipulate. Of course, in writing you regarding this matter, we are acting purely in the interest of Dr. George Roerich, and hope that you will be able to give us assistance in this matter, about which we are very much troubled. Dear Sir:

In response to your letter of June 30th which reached us this morning and on the urgent request of Miss Lichtmann of the Roerich Museum in New York, we have arranged to forward you the original illustrations used in our edition of Dr. Roerich's volume, "Trails to Inmost Asia." It is against our usual policy to release such original material before the book is actually issued, but we are more than eager to co-operate with you and with the Roerich Museum in any way that we can to promote the French edition of this distinguished work. Will you kindly return the illustrations to us when you have made your selection. If you wish us to forward electrotypes of the illustrations which you decide to use, we shall give the work our most prompt attention upon receipt of instructions from you.

Faithfully yours, (Signed) Norman V. Donalson.

ALL MESSAGES TAKEN BY THIS COMPANY ARE SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS:

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it repeated, that is, telegraphed back to the originating office for comparison. For this, one-half the unrepeated message rate is charged in addition. Unless otherwise indicated on its face, this is an unrepeated message and paid for as such, in consideration whereof it is agreed between the sender of the message and this company as follows:

whereof it is agreed between the sender of the message and this company as follows:

1. The company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the unrepeated-message rate beyond the sum of five hundred dollars; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the repeated-message rate beyond the sum of five thousand dollars, unless specially valued; nor in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its lines; nor for errors in cipher or obscure messages.

2. In any event the company shall not be liable for damages for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for the non-delivery, of any message, whether caused by the negligence of its servants or otherwise, beyond the sum of five thousand dollars, at which amount each message is deemed to be valued, unless a greater value is stated in writing by the sender thereof at the time the message is tendered for transmission, and unless the repeated-message rate is paid or agreed to be paid, and an additional charge equal to one-tenth of one percent of the amount by which such valuation shall exceed five thousand dollars.

3. The company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward this message over the lines of any other company when necessary to reach

4. Domestic messages and incoming cable messages will be delivered free within one-half mile of the company's office in towns of 5,000 population or less, and within one mile of such office in other cities or towns. Beyond these limits the company does not undertake to make delivery, but will, without liability, at the sender's request, as his agent and at his expense, endeavor to contract for him for such delivery at a reasonable price.

5. No responsibility attaches to this company concerning messages until the same are accepted at one of its transmitting offices; and if a message is sent to such office by one of the company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender.

6. The company will not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in any case where the claim is not presented in writing within sixty days after the message is filed with the company for transmission.

7. It is agreed that in any action by the company to recover the tolls for any message or messages the prompt and correct transmission and delivery thereof shall be presumed, subject to rebuttal by competent evidence.

Special terms governing the transmission of messages according to their classes, as enumerated below, shall apply to messages in each of such respective classes. in addition to all the foregoing terms.

Dear Mr. Bailey:

I have sent you under separate cover, special delivery, the complete corrected index and introductory material page-proofs. There are dafew items that I should like to bring to your attention:

In the list of Contents, I made a correction on one of the page numbers.

On page AX., should not the word "that" be substituted for "those"?

"Tien Shan .. " in the caption of the cut opposite page 109.

of the captions and page numbers (opposite pages 384 and 483) in the "List of Illustrations." There are, of course, two pictures bearing the same caption, on each of these respective plates. May I leave it to your discretion whether to let is stand, or delete the second entry in each case?

"Je-tshap-je" or "Jye-tshap-je" (on pages 153 and 485 of the page) using the same spelling for each. Could you please see that the form chosen, is the one indexed? At present an entry is made under each, which would be incorrect.

I leave today on vacation; you can reach me, 150yooodside Mrenue, Ridgewood, New Jersey.

Dear Miss Linden: Thank you for your note of July 9th stating that you are returning the two books which we recently lent you as a guide for the Index. I note that Miss Grant is anxious to start her publicity on the Roerich volume, and I shall see that all of our publicity material is forwarded to her as soon as it is ready. With the book being published so early in the season, we had not planned to issue a circular until after some of the reviews appeared. Therefore our only advance publicity is the jacket of the book and our Autumn List which is now being printed. It seems to us better to postpone our circularizing until later in the autumn at which time we can probably quote from certain of the early reviews. Such quotations, we find, are much more convincing than any statements made by the publisher himself. I am glad to know that you are to have two weeks' vacation during the latter part of July, and I hope that it may be a most enjoyable and restful time for you. Faithfully yours. relove CI. Dear Miss Grant:

With this letter I am enclosing a list of magazines, papers, and journals to which we propose to send review copies of "Trails to Inmost Asia." I should be very grateful if you would go over this list carefully and perhaps submit it to us as soon as possible, so that we may have the benefit of your advice and suggestions. Our policy is rather liberal with respect to review copies, and we are eager to include all publications which might do service to the distribution of the volume.

With this letter I am also enclosing a sort of questionnaire which is normally sent to the author of a book. It occurs to me that you might be willing to fill it out as extensively as possible with reference to Dr. George N. Roerich, thus saving time and the necessity of troubling him. The request for suggestions of review copies is of course being covered on the enclosed list.

Under separate cover I am sending to you one of our advance salesman's samples. We are greatly pleased with the wrapper of the volume and also with the general appearance. These dummies are made up with gilt stamping, but on account of the fact that the gilt does not show up very well, we have decided after careful consideration to stamp the shelf back with black ink. The effect is in our opinion an improvement over the gilt. You might be able to take some advance orders for the volume with this sample.

Faithfully yours,

Momen V. Donaldson

We are also inquiring with Dr. Roerich whether he has any additions to make to this list.

We have filled out the questionnaire as fully as possible with the information we have at hand.

We were very pleased to see the dummy, and found the gold stamping most effective. I will be anxious to see the black, which, as you say, is an improvement.

I look forward to receiving circulars or other printed matter as soon as possible, as I would like to begin our circularization immediately.

I have to thank you for your assistance in the matter of the French edition.

In my previous letter I have mentioned several persons to whom the Yale Press edition of the book should be forwarded, as soon as published. I am now sending you the names of some of my friends to whom kindly send copies of the book:-

a/ Four copies should be handed over to Mrs Lichtmann b/ Two copies should be sent to Madame de Vaux-Phalipau, 12, rue de Poitiers, Paris, VII-me. One of these copies will be presented at the forthcoming Congress of Ethnology.
c/ One copy to Dr. G. Chklaver, 12, rue de Poitiers, Paris, VII-me d/ One copy to Madame la Princesse Sviatopolk-Czetwertinsky, Iris Cottage, 8, Ave de la Jonchere, Celle St Cloud, Seine, France
e/ One copy to Dr. J. Rahder, University of Leiden, Leiden, Holland

The rest of the author's copies please forward to my Indian address. I shall be very much obliged if you will kindly send me a copy by registered mail as soon as published.

At present I am engaged in field-work in Western Tibet, but all correspondence should be addressed to my Naggar address.

Dear Mrs. Lichtmann,

I am in receipt of your letter of July 20th, and thank you for same.

It has been very kind of you to arrange for the sending of Miss McAllister's certificate. I think she has already written you to express her gratitude and sent $-3.40 for the expenses incurred by your office.

We have received from the Yale University Press the photographs for the French edition of Dr. Georges de Roerich's work. We greatly appreciate their kindness, and also, of course, your help in that matter.

Madame de Vaux-Phalipau has written you at length about the negotiations with M. Geuthner. Please find enclosed copy of Mr. Geuthner's letter of July 29th. It appears that Mr. Geuthner would like the Roerich Museum to subscribe for 200 copies of the French edition at $2.00 per copy. The sale price of the work will be $6.00, the difference with the subscription price being thus $4.00 (or 66%). I hope it will be possible for the Roerich Museum Press to settle that question to our mutual satisfaction. Would you kindly speak to Miss Frances Grant about it. I will write Miss Grant too.

Our book on the "Banner of Peace" will be ready by the end of the month. The post-card "Banner of Peace" will be ready tomorrow. We have ordered also 2,000 extra reproductions of the "Banner of Peace" on thin paper, in compliance with Mr. Horch's telegraphic instructions. These reproductions will also be sent to New York by the end of August. The price of each will be Fcs: 0,50, which amounts, for the 2,000 copies ordered, to Fcs 1000- or $40.

The inscriptions on the back of the post-cards have been placed in accordance with instructions. We have omitted the French inscriptions altogether.

As you probably know already, the work with the preparation of the Bruges conference is progressing successfully. Not only the French Academy, but the French Government also will be officially represented at the Conference.

Yesterday, I received a very nice letter from H.E.M. Adatci, President of the Permanent Court of International Justice. I will send a copy of this letter with my next regular report, together with the photographs of our premises.

Many thanks for your kind cooperation. Please convey my best greetings to our dear friends at the Museum, and believe me,

Dear Dr. Roerich:

We take pleasure in sending to you an advance copy of TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA, which we plan for publication on August 28th.

Will you please let me know what disposition you wish us to make of the remaining nine copies: whether you would like to have these forwarded to you at the above address or would wish to have us send them to friends of yours, in accordance with instructions to be received from you. We should be glad to follow whichever plan is most convenient to you.

Dear Mr. Donaldson:

You asked us some time ago for additional names for your reviewers'-list on TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA. The Park Avenue Social Review has just published an article by Mr. S. Roerich on the work of the Himalayan Research Institute - entitled "A New American Outpost of Science." Don't you think it would be advisable to send them a review copy? Mr. John Macrae, Jr. is the reviewer. As you probably know, their address is 342 Madison Avenue.

Dear Mr. Donaldson;

It was with extreme gratification that I received today two copies of the TRAIL. To INMOST ATIA, with the card inscribed: "With the Compliments of the Author." I deeply appreciate your courtesy in transmitting to me these two copies, and wish to take this opportunity to say that I think the edition of this book is most beautiful. I must compliment you highly upon such a splendid publication.

we have recently received a letter from the Press inquiring where the ten author's copies are to be sent, and accordingly requested that they be forwarded direct to Dr. de Roerich in India, presuming that he has not informed you to the contrary. On the other hand, may we call to your attention a letter which Dr. de Roerich wrote to Ir. Davis on April 3rd, 1930, asking whether it would be possible to let him have 15 copies instead of the 10 mentioned in the agreement. We should greatly appreciate your letting us know whether it would be possible to do this.

Dear Miss Linden:

In the absence of Miss Deane, I write to acknowledge your note of August 29th. Dr. Roerich had already written to me regarding the author's copies, and these have been sent out in accordance with his instructions. As a matter of fact, there were not quite enough author's copies to take care of his request, and we only sent two copies to Miss Lichtmann instead of four as suggested by Dr. Roerich. In order that you may be fully informed concerning these presentation copies, I am enclosing a copy of the letter I received from Dr. Roerich together with a copy of my answer.

Dear Miss Lichtmann:

It was a pleasure to receive your letter of August 31st in which you acknowledged the two copies of "Trails to Inmost Asia" which we sent to you on instructions from Dr. Roerich, and to know that you feel the book presents a most impressive appearance. Although the cost of printing the volume necessitated a sales price which is a little high for wide distribution at a time when most people are feeling a certain economic pressure, yet we have great hopes for the future of the volume, and certainly the response which we have already received, not only from individuals but from representatives of the Book Trade, would indicate that the volume will enjoy the support and enthusiasm which it deserves.

I noted your reference to the letter which Dr. Roerich wrote to Mr. Davis in April 1930 asking that the allotment of author's copies be increased from our usual ten to fifteen. I am not at all sure whether the situation was explained to Dr. Roerich at that time in conversation, but we have no record in our files to indicate that the Press agreed to this increase, and in view of the fact that Dr. Roerich accepted our contract which offered only ten copies, we assumed that the matter was clear in his mind. Since the Press has contributed nearly $3,000.00 capital toward the publication of this volume, we are more limited than we should otherwise be in the extent to which we can release copies of the edition for free distribution. The demand for review copies was heavy, and we have already more than exceeded the number of copies originally allotted to take care of presentation and review requirements. Accordingly, I very much regret to have to inform you that we do not feel able to release five more copies to Dr. Roerich, and I trust that you and he will understand the circumstances which have necessitated this decision.

With personal regards and with the hope that the Museum itself can arrange to sell a large number of copies of the book in accordance with the terms already agreed upon, I am

Dear Mr. Baileys

Your letter to Dr. George Roerich of September 14th with the enclosed bill for $578.44, including alterations on proofs in excess of the 10% allowed as per contract, as well as the map drawing, was received by us and has been immediately forwarded to Dr. Roerich.

We were greatly astounded by the high figure representing the alterations as tabl as the map drawing, as we had not expected it to be so big. I shall greatly appreciate it if you will send me the itemized data on the alterations on the proofs, namely that specific alterations you had to make and whether they pertained to the change of spelling and any other changes which had to be systematically carried out through the book.

As regards the map drawing, amounting to $237.60, we notice from your letter that this figure is in excess of the amount on which you agreed with Dr. Roerich when you communicated with him during his stay in Paris, due to later corrections on the map. We shall also appreciate learning from you what was the excess amount above the sum originally agreed upon, as well as the items of changes and corrections which necessitated this.

I am requesting this information because I know that Dr. Roerich will want to have all data pertaining to the bill. I shall deeply appreciate hearing from you at your early convenience in this regard, and remain as you will see from the enclosed copies of correspondence with your office, since they were unable to find instructions regarding the forwarding of copies of TRAIDS TO IMMOR ACIA to Paris in time for the conferences, and since we ourselves did not have any definite information, we asked that three copies be forwarded to Dr. George Chklaver. However, these three copies were covered by Dr. Roerich's letter; the one copy for Mme. de Vaux-Phalipau, to be presented at the Congress of Sthmologists, and the two copies for Dr. Chklaver, we should be most grateful if you would write to Dr. Chklaver, to retrieve the additional three copies sent him, as these are probably needed by you.

Dear Miss Lichtmann:

Thank you for your letter of September 13 with regard to our invoice to Dr. George Roerich for the cost of the map drawing and for the cost of alterations in proofs in excess of 10% of the cost of composition for the book, TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA.

I cannot understand your astonishment at the large figure for the cost of alterations in proofs in excess of 10% of the cost of composition since we duly warned you at various stages of this cost. Please see my letter of March 25, 1931 to Miss Linden in which I report then the cost of alterations on galley proofs alone stands at $215.00 in excess of the 10% allowance. The extra amount billed over this estimated figure of $215.00 at the galley proof stage of the work represents the additional cost of the corrections indicated on page proofs.

All of this work of making alterations as well as the various corrections on the map we handled on a time basis and it is impossible for me to itemize just how our charges aremade up with respect to the cost of any specific alterations or corrections. We have gone over our printer's bill to us for this work with the corrected proofs and we are convinced that their charge is equitable for all concerned in view of the work performed. We have been doing business with this printer for over twenty years and we have always found their charges fair when considered with the work performed.

The original estimated cost of the map drawing was approximately $180.00 and the difference between this figure and that billed, $57.60, represents the cost of the corrections Dr. Roerich desired made.

Please pardon my delay in answering your note which came last week. We promptly forwarded a copy of "Trails to Inmost Asia" to Mr. Hartmann as suggested by Miss Grant, and we hope that this may produce desired results in the German press both here and abroad.

" May I especially express my appreciation of the intelligent and scientific way in which you have dealt with and described Trans-himalaya's orographical importance and situation in the Tibetan world of mountains. Geographers in England do not yet seem to understand the gigantic part played by this enormous system of mountains, but future exploration will give me full acknowledgement. Therefore I read all you have said about my old Trans-himalaya with such great and genuine satisfaction" We are also enclosing herewith copy of a very fine review which appeared in the Globe-Democrat, St. Louis, Missouri, and of another that appeared in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, parts of which you might be able to use in your publicity. Dear Miss Lichtmann:

Thank you very much for your letter of September 25th enclosing the extract from the letter which Dr. Sven Hedin wrote to Dr. Roerich. I was also pleased to receive the copy of the review from the St. Louis Globe Democrat and the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Although these had come to our attention through our regular Clipping Service, we are glad to have the extra copies available. You will of course have seen and been pleased by the splendid review which appeared in yesterday's New York Times.

It has seemed to us desirable to hold up the circular until reviews of that type have been published. It is certain that we shall wish to get to work on this circular very soon, but I am inclined to think that there are still a number of reviews in the making, some of which might be very desirable for quotation purposes. I also feel that a mail campaign will produce better results after the book has become known through these reviews and through a certain amount of distribution through the bookstores.

Dear Miss Linden:

Some time ago at the request of the Museum and the French publisher we forwarded the originals of our illustrations for "Trails to Inmost Asia" to France. This was strictly against our usual policy, but it seemed the only thing to do in view of the urgent desire of the French publisher to see the original illustration material. The material has not yet come back to us, and we are held up in proceeding with our plans for a circular on the book. A sufficient number of reviews have now come out to justify printing a circular, the review in the Boston Transcript being especially fine. I am therefore writing to you to ask whether you have a picture from which we could make a plate of the frontispiece in the book, the portrait of Professor Nicholas Roerich. We should also like to use the illustration appearing opposite page 486 in the book, the Ling-Kar painting. If by any chance you had photographic reproductions of these two illustrations, we could then go forward with our circular as originally planned.

Faithfully yours.

Their imprint, as you know, appears on the title page and therefore the English rights are not available. I am enclosing a copy of my note to Curtis Brown explaining this situation to them.

Mr. Norman V. Donaldson

Dear Mr. Donadlson:

It might be of interest to you to have

It might be of interest to you to have extracts from recent newspaper notices regarding the Chinese edict against foreign scientific expeditions in their territory. The following is a quotation from one of these notices:

"One by one the British, French and Swedish expeditions have been warned off or actually expelled, and now the American (Museum of Natural History) has received its markhing orders after intensive correspondence and hard arguments from American diplomacy on the spot.

"Sir Aurel Stein has been driven out of Chinese Turkestan; Dr. Sven Hedin and the Swedes, the same; and the French Trans-Asiatic Expedition under Dr. Georges Haardt and M. de Chardin is making what may prove an ineffectual stand at bay. The latest news is that Lieut. Point has made an effective protest at Peiping (Peking); and his countrymen have abandoned the use of their Citroen cars as useless for the nature of the territory they have to cover. But it will be surprising if France succeeds where the rest have failed."

We think it particularly interesting that Ma Shao-wu, who did so much harm to the Roerich Mxpedition, is said to be one of those at the bottom of the present trouble.
You will remember that Dr. Roerich describes in TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA how this same person, now Governor of Kashgar, tried to handicap the Expedition in Khotan.

Some time ago Mrs. Lichtmann sent you a clipping from the Philadlephia Ledger. Since this was the only copy I had, we should greatly appreciate your returning it to us, or, if you prefer, letting us know the date and leading of the article, so that we may order further copies.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Donaldson:

We were very glad to hear that you now have sufficient material for a circular on TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA, and have cabled to Paris, asking them to return the original photographs to you for this purpose. In the meantime we are sending you photographs of the two plates which you mention: the portrait of Professor Nicholas Roerich, and the painting of Ling-Kar.

Dr. Roerich writes in his last letter that he was sorry the idea was abandoned of placing a Tibetan figure on the front cover of the book, as was proposed between him and Mr. Davis (although he writes in the same letter how pleased he was with the appearance of the book). Do you think that it would be possible to use a Tibetan figure now in the circular? If you do, and will let us know which one you feel most interesting, we will be glad to send you a photograph of this also.

I have spokentto Miss Grant in regard to the number of circulars she would like; she would greatly appreciate your sending about 2,000 copies, if you could spare these.

Dear Miss Linden:

Over two weeks ago I wrote to you asking for some illustrations for use in our circular on "Trails to Inmost Asia." I enclose a copy of my letter to which I have been expecting a reply any day since that time. The circular is all set with the exception of the illustration material, and I hope that you will be able to help us out of our difficulty. May I hear from you.

Dear Mr. Donaldson:

I have just today received your letter of October 19th, enclosing copy of your earlier letter. We are exceedingly sorry that there was such a delay, but can only assure you that it did not occur in our office, since the letter only reached us late on the 15th. Possibly the delay was due to the mails, for we have recently had a similar experience. I hope that it has not seriously inconvenienced you.

The photographs were sent off this morning, by first-class mail, and should have reached you by this time.

Dear Miss Linden:

On the heels of my last letter to you, I received your letter and the glossy prints for the illustrations in the circular. Many thanks. Under the circumstances in view of the fact that the circular is laid out and ready to go to press, I do not feel that it would be wise to take the time to change the cuts and put the Tibetan figure in the circular. What we can do is use that figure on the jacket for a second edition, if and when, as I very much hope may be the case, we reach the point of reprinting. I note that Miss Grant will be able to use 2000 copies of the circular. It is going to be a rather expensive circular, relatively speaking, and therefore the Press will be placed under a heavy definite expense in supplying such a large quantity. However, if Miss Grant feels that she can make effective use of that many copies of the circular, we shall be glad to supply her, and I have arranged for an extra run of that number to be made at the time our supply is printed.

I have noted with interest Dr. Roerich's further suggestions concerning review copies of the book. These will receive our attention, if copies have not already gone.

I am distressed to learn that my letter which was dated October 1st did not reach you until October 15th. I don't suppose by any chance you kept the envelope to see what the postmark in New Haven was. It is certainly a matter which I should like to take up with the post-office if there is any way of proving that the delay was due to their negligence.

We are looking forward to receiving copies of this. Miss Grant confirms that she will be able to use as many copies as you can let her have, and we greatly appreciate your running off an additional amount for he to send out. Thank you also for the newspaper clippings you returned to us. You may be interested to hear that a copy of the Wale edition of TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA was publicly presented to M. Marin, who wrote its preface, at the XVth Congress of Ethnography, Paris, of which he was President. The presentation was made by Mme. de Vaux-Phalipau, as representative of the Ruropean Center of the Roerich Museum, prior to reading two communications to the Congress from Dr. Roerich, I am sorry to say that I did not keep the envelope of your letter of October 1st; but we believe that it was probably the post-office at this end which was at fault, and have spoken to them about the matter. Dear Mrs Lichtmann,

I haster to acknowledge receipt of Dr George de Roerich's book, and of the Himalayan's Research Institute's Journal.

I think Dr Georges de Roerich's work is a magnificent contribution to science and I greatly admire the author's literary gifts. I have read the book from the first page to the last with utmost interest and pleasure.

The Journal of Urusvati is also a remarkable achievement and I wish to convey my congratulations to the Director of the Institute and to all the contributors.

In accordance with your note of November 4th, I am arranging to send Dr. Roerich a copy of Edgerton's "Elephant-Lore of the Hindus" for review. You also include in your note an order from him for a copy of Golovine's "The Russian Army in the World War," but we regret to say that owing to a delay in manufacture this book will probably not be brought out until after the first of the year. I recently received a note from Dr. Roerich asking for additional copies of "Trails to Inmost Asia," two of which were to be sent to New York and two to his foreign address. I am now anxious to know whether the Edgerton book should go to his European address or to New York, and whether the bill for the Asia volumes should be sent abroad or to you at the New York Office. Could you find time to drop me a note tomorrow, Saturday, which I can have Monday, giving me this information, so that there may be no delay in getting this shipment on its way.

Mr. G. T. Bailey Yale University Press New Haven, Connectiont

Dear Mr. Bailey:

Referring again to your letter of September 14th, regarding the correction charges on TRAILS TO INMO T ASIA, there are a few points which occur to me and which I should like to bring to your attention.

As you will remember, the question of transcription of foreign names was not discussed at the time of the contract, and presented itself only when the first galley proofs were received, resulting in a great number of mistakes in the spelling of oriental expressions, and personal names, made by the printer, and not appearing in the original manuscripts.

Representative of this type of correction are the change of the (palatal) "c, "which was transcribed as "s" instead of "ng"; "sh"; "n", which was transcribed simply as "n" instead of "ng"; and the omission of the umlaut over "o" and "u". Full explanations of the required transcriptions were sent you in our letter of August 19th, and following letters. The list given below will suggest, on the other hand, how many corrections became necessary on this account, particularly when you remember that such words or names repeated themselves again and again throughout the next.

C as per Mss. to be corrected as "sh" due to ommission of diacritic mark, in accordance with your letter of September 10th:

Gra-tshan Khri-sron sde'u-btsan dban-po Kun-tu bzan-po Byan-chub mGo-man 'bras-dpun

Ommission of the "umlaut" appeared frequently, as in the following words:

Garpön Sönam Thop-jyel Carugön Chös-me

Naturally there were also other miscellaneous misprints, concerning which we wrote you at different times. All such mistakes in the proofs were not due to Dr. Roerich's changes, but to the fact that the Yale Press decided to alter the transcription of foreign names in the text.

We will be very glad to recognize fully changes which were suggested by us or by Dr. Roerich personally through him correspondence; however, we do not feel that we should be held responsible for alterations due to the omission of the diacritical marks. Moreover, we felt that a correct edition was in the interest of the Yale Press, and, therefore greatest care was taken by us in the proof-reading, which was done by our office, in order to assist you in the best possible way -- as you yourself had occasion to see.

Regarding the map drawing, the cost of this is also above the figure agreed upon between Dr. Reerich and the Yale Press. We wish to draw your attention to the fact that Dr. Reerich did not add anything new to the map drawing, but inserted only those names which were indicated by him on the original map given to the Press. Moreover, the map was considerably simplified. We should also like to mention that when you asked for additional expenses for the map-drawing, the Yale Press stated that they were planning a large map to accompany the volume; the map inserted in the book can surely not be considered a large map.

We sincerely hope therefore, and especially in view of the fact that this book is of great value since Dr. George Roerich's name is so well-known in both Orientalist and scientific circles here and abroad, that your figure of $578.44 ought to be considerably reduced. We should also deeply appreciate your itemized statement, since we believe that in this case it would help in adjusting the matter to our mutual satisfaction.

It seems that there has been some misunderstanding as regards the number of copies to be sent to Paris, or possibly the three additional copies referred to in my letter of September 16th, had not yet reached him when your request for their return arrived. As we understand it, Dr. Roerich asked in his letter as you dated August 5th, that 2 author's copies be sent to Ime. de Vaux-Phalipau and 1 copy to Dr. George Chklaver, both at the address of the French Association. The matter is not one of any very great importance, but naturally we should very much like to clear our records and be sure that all of these copies have reached their destination and are needed, inasmuch as the book is expensive and every copy that is sent out represents a certain financial expenditure. I note from your letter that one of the first copies has been sold, and I should be glad to know whether you plan to return to us a proportion of the price obtained. Our usual discount on foreign sales is 45% of the list price. I should also be grateful if you would find out whether the two copies reached line. do Vaux-Phalipau and whether the later single copy addressed to you and shipped under date of August 20th ever came to your attention. The BOOKSHELF

The strongest feature of the novel is the ease and naturalness with which the past is evoked. A score of famous persons walk through the pages and talk like human beings. Webster himself has none of the altitudinous chill one is accustomed to associate with his name. I found it hard to like Caroline or to be certain of her motives, and felt that to connect the later successes of Webster with her influence seemed a little sentimental. But the sense of life is in the book; it has humor and charm; it revivifies stirring scenes of the past.

Edna Ferber's American Beauty (Doubleday, Doran, $2.50) sketches, with her usual speed and gusto, the transition of a New England locality from its Anglo-Saxon settlement to its ownership by Polish peasants. The history of a Connecticut farm, and of the Oakeses who first developed it, is traced in the lives of Orrange Oakes, his wife Judith, and their daughter Tamar, from 1700, through their descendants of the same names a hundred years later, to the marriage of the youngest Tamar to a Pole, Ondia Olszak; and ends with the latest of the line, an Orrange Olszak, owner of the old homestead and apparently destined to marry Candace Baldwin, scion of another old family of the district. It is the melting pot from a new point of view, the suggestion being that the old New England blood may be replenished from the strength of the peasant, as the impoverished farms from his plodding but indomitable labor.

Whatever we may think of the theme, we must admire the energy and vividness of the telling, even though Miss Ferber paints with a palette knife and her adjectival ardor seems at times a bit overdone. The old-world charm of rural Connecticut cannot be conveyed with a punch. But the way in which the characters, especially the second Judith, Polcia, Ondia, Big Bella, and Temmie, are etched in colors, even if the colors seem more Polish than Puritan, makes a gripping story, in which humor, the zest of life, and moments of pathos or of horror are blended with great skill. We may find it hard to believe that Temmie would ever marry Ondia, or, if married, could be happy with him. Evidently, however, we are to believe that the blood of the Oakeses ran strongly in her and her son Orrange; and the Oakeses had never been afraid of life. Indeed, in all her work Miss Ferber's motto might well be: 'It takes life to love life.'

One approaches A Calendar of Sin (Cape & Smith, $5.00) with awe, for it is a book of over twelve hundred large pages — fully the equivalent of eighteen hundred ordinary pages. Divided into chapters corresponding to years between 1867 and 1914, it further records the lapse of time within each year by notations of date. In her Preface the author, Evelyn Scott, announces her intention of including 'no mere adumbration of the financial drama of America . . . but a detailed relation of the public events,' as well as 'to allow love and hunger equal expression.' It is evident that this last purpose interested her most as she proceeded, for the story is mainly concerned with the lives of several families who came into contact or collision chiefly through love.

I doubt if ever have the interrelations and ramifications of a group of families been narrated with such skill and such convincing realism. But, unless the reader has an unusually good memory for genealogy, he will be wise to read with pencil in hand and construct the various family trees as he goes along. To do so is no burden and may prevent some irritations.

It is a piece of social history of really astonishing scope and insight. It exhibits the post-Civil War generations as they never could — as they never dared — exhibit themselves, during a period when the country was absorbed in financial development and the Victorian hush concerning sex lay like a pall over the people, breeding all sorts of morbidities and abnormalities in love, sin being accounted virtue and what passed for virtue being really sin.

But most readers will be content to read the book as a powerful and absorbing story of average families, whose children fall in love and marry well or badly; whose fathers work blindly for wealth that comes or goes; whose mothers equally blindly work for the good of their children and may work them ill; whose sons run away and whose daughters get into trouble through ignorance or passion; and all this set against a background, economic, political, social, which their brain tells them is important but which their feelings instinctively ignore. Poor Linda, jealous of Patience Poole on the day of McKinley's assassination, remembers that she lost her first lover on the day of Grant's funeral. Because it is so essentially true, nothing is more admirable than this absorption of each character in his own concerns. Here is a book to read slowly and thoughtfully, for it is full of wisdom.

My dear Miss Lichtmann:

I have at last been able to study carefully your letter of November 25, the author's corrected proofs of the book in question, and all of the correspondence pertaining thereto.

It is difficult to handle this matter in correspondence and since I am to be in New York next week Wednesday, January 6, would it be convenient for you to see me some time during the day to go over the whole problem?

Sincerely yours,

Dear Miss Linden:

In view of the fact that I am to leave the Yale University Press this summer to take up work aborad, I wish to send you word that Mr. Norman V. Donaldson is to take over the affairs of my office and will carry on future correspondence concerning Mr. Roerich's "Trails to Inmost Asia."

It has been a pleasure to have had a part in the development of plans thus far, in contact with Mr. Roerich and with you.

Sincerely yours,

Confirming our telephone conversation of today, we will continue to send you two sets of galley proofs of the book, TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA, with the corresponding manuscript copy. We will also send to Dr. Roerich two sets of galley proofs at the same time that galley proofs are sent to you. One of the two sets sent to Dr. Roerich will bear the same queries as appearing on the set of galley proofs sent to you, and marked "To Author", eventually to be returned to us for correction. We will ask Dr. Roerich to indicate all of his corrections and answers to queries on the one set of proofs bearing queries which we send him and return that set of proofs to you. It is understood that you will incorporate all of Dr. Roerich's corrections on the one set of proofs stamped "To Author" which will be returned to us for final correction and pagination.

We understand that you are going to send now to Dr. Roerich your file set of proofs of all galleys on which there are questions you cannot answer, having transferred to those proofs the necessary queries from your query set which you will keep intact to return to us.

My dear Miss Lichtmann:

I have been so busy with the end of the year inventories that I have not had the opportunity to write you, following my talk with you in New York recently.

I enclose herewith a copy of Dr. Roerich's letter of January 15, 1931 to Mr. Davis about the map, together with a copy of his four sheets of corrections. I think that you will agree, after seeing this material, that our charge for the cost of the map drawing and the corrections necessitated by Dr. Roerich's letter is not more than fair for the work performed, particularly when you consider the unsatisfactory and incomplete source material furnished our draftsman.

I have had the charge for this work transferred to Dr. Roerich's royalty account, as originally agreed, thus leaving on open account only our charge of $340.84 for the cost of alterations in proofs in excess of 10% of the cost of composition.

I have not had the opportunity as yet to talk with Mr. Day about the situation on our charge for alterations in proofs, but I shall hope to soon, following which I shall again get in touch with you.

We are convinced that our two bills should stand as rendered for this work, and we cannot accept your proposal for an adjustment of either.

I enclose a statement of your account as it appeared February 1, 1932, according to our records. This statement shows the deduction of the charge for the map work from the open account. This charge amounting to $237.60 has been transferred to Dr. Roerich's royalty account.

March 29, 1932 Mr. G. T. It seemed to me that when I saw you last time, the points raised by me in regard to the author's corrections as well as the charge for the map drawing, and the proper adjustment on these, proved quite clearly our stand, as outlined also in our letter of November 25th, 1931. Therefore I was rather astonished to see that you did not make any readjustment whatsoever in this matter. However, as I have stated above, we shall have to await further instructions from Dr. Roerich. Sincerely yours, Vice-President pondence with you and after careful consideration would like again to ask you to give your attention to the stitlement of the questions pertaining to Dr. George Resrich's account on "Trails to Inmost Asia." I sincerely feel that Dr. Recrich cannot be held responsible for those mistakes which were absolutely not his fault, since the manuscripts delivered to you showed very clearly the correct oriental spellings with discritical marks, and a great number of mistakes occurred due to your omission of these marks without substituting the proper letters of the alphabet.

My dear Mr. Bailey:

I would be very glad to hear from you as to any suggestion which you can make in settling this matter, and I am quite certain that you will recognize the justice of my assertion and try to meet us half-way.

As per your last letter I see that after crediting the royalties of $360, there is still a balance due you of $257.05. It seems to me, dear Mr. Bailey, that you can with all justice to the Yale University Press as well as to Dr. Roerich, considerably reduce the balance due, thus effecting a solution agreeable to us all. I know that Dr. Roerich would deeply appreciate your cooperation in this matter.

I trust that this can be adjusted to our mutualisatisfaction and, looking forward to hearing from you in the near future, am

You will note from the statement of Dr. Roerich's account that the royalties amounting to $32.63 have been applied against the unpaid balance of Dr. Roerich's account. There is, however, a balance still unpaid of $103.37, and we must insist that payment of this long overdue balance be made promptly.

We do not know whether or not Dr. Roerich has returned to this country. If he has we shall expect you to take this matter up with him and to write us definitely thereafter. If Dr. Roerich has not returned to this country and does not plan to do so for some time to come, it will be necessary for us to communicate with him abroad unless you are able to definitely make some arrangements for paying the balance of $103.37.

Miss Sina Lichtmann Roerich Museum 310 Riverside Drive New York, New York

Dear Miss Lichtmann:

For three years we have held type on Roerich's "Trails to Inmost Asia" on the chance that a reprinting of the book would be necessary. We still have about 150 copies of the book in stock from the original edition of 1000 copies. In view of the fact that the demand for this title is now rather small, we have decided that the present stock is sufficient for our future needs, and that we would not wish to reprint.

The cost of holding type comes to about $50. a year, and I am now writing to ask you whether we may have your approval of our plan to distribute the type. If the Museum feels that at some later date it might wish to finance a reprinting, and wishes to assume the carrying charges of the type, we should, of course, be glad to hold the type for you.

With the hope that you may be able to give this question early attention and that I may hear from you before long, I am,

Faithfully yours,

Hr. Norman V. Donaldson, Yale University Press, New Haven, Conn.

Dear Mr. Donaldson:

We have received your latter of September 18th, regarding the holding of type on the book "TRAILS TO DIMOST ASIA" by Dr. Georges de Roerich, and after giving it serious consideration, we wish to come in touch with Dr. Roerich about it.

As you may know, he is at present on an expedition in Central Asia sent out by the United States Department of Agriculture, and we cannot expect an answer from him in the very near future.

However, since you have been kind enough to hald the type up to the present time, we are requesting you to continue to do so until we receive his answer.

Sincerely yours,

Vice-President.

Mr. Norman V. Donaldson, ... Yele University Press, New Haven, Conn.

Dear Mr. Donaldson:

We understand that some time ago you had negotiations with a German publisher - we are not sure if it was Brockhaus - as to the German Editon of Trails to Inmost Asia".

As we have not heard further from you, we will appreciate your advising us as to how this matter stands at present.

Hoping to have your early reply, we are,

Yours most sincerely,

Vice-president

Dear Miss Lichtmann:

In answer to your note of November 13th, I write to say that nothing came of the negotiations of the German Edition of "Trails to Inmost Asia," and the matter had, therefore, to be dropped some time ago.

Faithfully yours,

My dear Mr. Donaldson:

We beg to inform you at this time that it will not be necessary for you be hold any longer the type on "Trails to Inmost Asia" by Dr. Georges de Roerich.
Thanking you for your interest,

we remain,

Dr. George Roerich The Roerich Museum 310 Riverside Drive New York, New York.

Dear Dr. Roerich:

We are sending you herewith our statement of royalties on your book, TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA, for the year 1934. These royalties, amounting to $22.88, have been transferred to apply on your open account, thus reducing the balance on that account now due us to $80.49 as cutlined on the enclosed statement. This balance of $80.49 is now long past due, and we must request a settlement at your earliest convenience. Will you not let us know when we may receive payment?

Sincerely yours, Geo. Bailey

Dear Miss Lichtmann:

We are sending you herewith our statement of royalties on the sales of the book TRAILS TO INMOST ASIA during the year 1935. These royalties amounting to $24.38 have been transferred to apply on the open account thus reducing the balance on that account now due us to $56.11 as shown on the enclosed statement.

We also enclose a statement of the account of the Roerich Museum Press showing a balance due us of $12.95. No payments on this account have been made since August 27, 1934.

Both Dr. Roerich's account and that of the Roerich Museum Press have been standing for several years and are therefore long past due. We have written repeatedly concerning these accounts, and despite Dr. Roerich's possible absence at this time, we would request your prompt attention in making settlement of the balances due on these two old accounts.

Sincerely yours,

Manager of the Manufacturing Departmen

My dear Mr. Bailey:

I have received your letter of May 18 and hasten to inform you that I am immediately transmitting it to Dr. George de Roerich, who is at present in India.

As you know that it will he a month before your letter reaches him and that an equal period of time will be necessary to receive his answer, please know that this matter cannot be dealt with any sooner, i.e.; until Dr. Roerich communicates directly with you.

In regard to the Roerich Museum Press, I have transmitted to them your statement and no doubt they will come in touch with you directly.

Yours very truly,

Sina Lichtmann Vice President

Dear Sir:

In answer to your letter of May 26 I wish to say that immediately upon receipt of your letter of May 18th I forwarded it to Dr. Roerich in India and transmitted to the Roerich Museum Press your statement to them.

Dr. Roerich's account can only be handled by him and you will understand that I can do nothing but await his answer.

No doubt the Roerich Museum Press has already come in touch with you, but if you wish to write to them you may address Miss Frances R. Grant, who is the Director.

Trusting that these matters will be adjusted satisfactorily, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Sina Lichtmann Vice President

Dear Miss Lichtmann:

Thank you for your letter of May 20. We have not as yet heard from the Roerich Museum Press concerning the statement of its account which I sent you with my letter of May 18 and anything further that you can do to expedite the settlement of that account will be greatly appreciated.

Each year for the past several years we have presented the statement of Dr. Roerich's account and have been told in reply that since Dr. Roerich was abroad the statements had been forwarded to him and that he would communicate with us directly about the matter. We have never heard but once from Dr. Roerich in regard to the matter and this was several years ago.

It would certainly seem that in Dr. Roerich's absence some one in this country must have the authority to act for him in such a matter as the past due balance of $56.11 on his account shown on the statement sent with my letter of May 18; and if you, or some one else, do not possess the authority to handle this matter, will you not undertake to secure such power from Dr. Roerich or to obtain an answer from Dr. Roerich concerning his account for us at an early date so that we may finally clear up the situation which has persisted for so long a time.

Sincerely yours,

Manager of the Manufacturing Department
