Dear Miss Lichtmann:

I look back with feelings of sincere joy upon the delightful visit we had during my New York trip and sincerely hope that our next meeting may not be unduly delayed.

In accordance with the promise I made to you on that occasion, I am sending you, in another envelope, a considerable collection of reprints of my articles along various lines in which I think you will be interested, and shall be glad to hear how they appeal to you.

With kindest regards and best wishes to all my friends at the Museum and especially to you, I am,

Cordially and sincerely yours,

My dear Miss Lichtmann:

The outline and plan of the course in Archaeology and art to be given at Roerich Museum by Dr. Magoffin during the coming winter was received during my vacation.

The outline is most comprehensive and interesting.
The plan for the supplementary work making up the number of hours to one hundred and twenty-four (124) is perfectly arranged and therefore thoroughly satisfactory.

Any teacher who presents your certificate showing that this course has been satisfactorily completed will receive a thirty hour credit.

Yours very truly,

Forest Grant

My dear Miss Lichtmann:

Am sorry not to have written you long ago, but it has just been impossible to catch up. I am hoping to see you soon but in the meantime let me wish you all a happy Xmas day and thank all the dear friends for their beautiful service for my husband. I will write Mr. Horch just as soon as I return from Canada (London, Ont.) where I am going to spend the New Year with my dear sisters.

How lovely Prof. Roerich's tribute is - and to have made Robert a Member in Perpetuity. I do appreciate it so much.

God bless you all.

Very affectionately yours,

Ethel Norwood

Dear Mr. Petkovic:

It gives me great pleasure to present to you, under separate cover, five copies of "Fragments of the Biography of Nicholas Roerich", by Jean Duvernois. The book would interest you greatly, for it contains vital facts of our beloved Master's life. I am certain that in your country there will be many people who will be interested to learn of the life of this great Unifier and Leader of Culture as is Nicholas Roerich. Any advice you may give me as to the spreading of the book in your country shall be greatly valued.

I am sending you under separate cover, thirty-five (35) books which your Academy will be glad to have on sale. We sell the book here for twenty-five cents (25¢) and shall be glad to give to your Academy a discount of 33%. Should you desire additional copies, we shall be very glad to send them to you. This book will be especially interesting to your Academy because it has a hall dedicated to the masterpieces of Professor Roerich's genius.

The book of Duvernois is written in Russian.

Thanking you for your cooperation, I am with best greetings,

Yours sincerely,

VICE PRESIDENT.

Mrs. Esther J. Lichtmann
New York City.

Dear Madam:

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of December 5th together with five copies of "Fragments of the Biography of Nicholas Roerich" by Jean Duvernois, for which please accept my sincere thanks.

Being an admirer of the life and works of the illustrious Master, the perusing of Mr. Duvernois's book has given me great pleasure. Believe me,

Yours sincerely,

My dear Miss Lichtmann

My holiday season carried a deeper sentiment stirred by the gracious thoughts and the inspirational art of Professor Roerich. Thank you heartily for your own kind well-wishes and also for being the bearer of those from Professor Roerich. The reproductions of his paintings carry his vision to the heights. The Mother of the World and The Great Mother of Peace grip me and always stir my will to serve.

With every good wish for a useful and contented New Year,
I am,

Cordially yours,

Constace A. Sporborg.

My dear Miss Lichtmann:

We are very glad indeed to know that Mr. Foldes is permanently associated with the Master Institute of the Roerich Museum and certainly congratulate you on having at hand the services of so well informed a technician and so delightful and thorough an instructor.

The American Occupational Therapy Association, 175 Fifth Avenue, New York City, will be glad to have on hand any circulars you may have regarding the classes to be held by Mr. Foldes and we could use a few in this office.

I hope to be able to call at the Museum ere long and have the pleasure again of making contact with Mr. Foldes, whom we all like and admire so much.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Franklin H. Wentworth
Boston, Mass.

Dear Mr. Wentworth,

Your letter of January 26th with the enclosed check of $25.00 for a Friendship Bond touched me profoundly. Your generous gesture signifies your beautiful spirit of friendship to our Institution. I wish to express to you from the depth of my heart our sincere thanks for your friendship and help.

You commend in your letter our adventure of faith, in trying to launch a campaign in this time of depression. Thus firm indeed is the strength of our faith. And in these difficult times, when the dark forces are raging, it seems more necessary than ever to uphold the valient spirit and the banner of Culture. We are optimists. And we shall not lay down the arms in our battle. I am happy to count you amidst our well-wishers and helpers.

I was so happy to have met Mrs. Wentworth and to have had the pleasure of having you with us on that evening dedicated to friendship. I have always been a great believer that no meeting in life is merely incidental, especially with those akin in spirit as I feel you and Mrs. Wentworth to be to us. It will give me joy to see you again on your next visit to New York, which I hope will be before long. Please let me know ahead of time so that I might arrange to have you as my guests at the Museum.

It gives me pleasure to send to you under separate cover some colored reproductions of Professor Roerich's paintings, as well as the Friendship Bond.

With my heartiest thoughts to Mrs. Wentworth and yourself,

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Prof. Kaun:

It was indeed a great pleasure to have seen you on your brief passage through New York to California. We were all so sorry that you had spent so little time with us.

It gives me great pleasure to send to you the ten books of the "Fragments of the Biography of Nicholas Roerich" by Jean Duvernois. As I have mentioned to you the book is sold here for twenty-five cents a copy and we shall give 33% discount to those with whom the book will be placed on consignment.

I believe that the idea of having a Roerich Evening as crystalized by you will be timely and of great importance, for I know of no-one who could better expound the ideas of our beloved Master and speak with more fervor of his great art.

With all my best wishes for a happy season and best thoughts,

Yours cordially,

Vice President.

LITERARY VESPERS

March 27, 1933.

Dear Miss Lichtmann:

It's a long time since we last met! I hope you have missed me.

Before I leave for England to lecture, April 15th, I would like seriously to have our long anticipated talk with you and Mrs. Horch, and with Mr. Horch, Miss Grant, and your brother, if convenient, to discuss the possibility of our cooperation next year.

I see that you have had various arrangements with other people like Mrs. Bertha Kunz Baker, Juan Chico and others, for mutually profitable lectures and recitals. Why not have me establish a regular forum each week, or every other week, for the discussion of current events, for presenting authors and other celebrities, for author's readings, reviews of books of the hour, etc.?

I have done this for twenty years at Bridgeport, for twelve years in New York, and at other centers. A series with you would not conflict with my other appearances in this city. Mrs. Burrill could also assist in art instruction in another department of your activities.

In return, would you consider giving us a small apartment in the building for six months of the year? Our services would be at your disposal for other things as well.

Please call me at Monument 2-5161, when you can.

With cordial greetings, I am,

Yours faithfully,

Edgar White Burrill.

My dear Miss Lichtmann:

Although any expression of gratitude seems inadequate in proportion to my appreciation, I want to thank you and your associates of the Master Institute for the kindness you have shown in awarding me a scholarship in music. I feel it is an additional honor to have been chosen for this scholarship given in honor of so distinguished a person as Madame Helena Roerich.

Studying with you has always been such a joy and inspiration to me and I hope that I will justify your confidence in my ability.

Again, accept my deepest appreciation.

Sincerely,

Janet Simon.

Dear Miss Lichtmann:-

I am very glad indeed to enclose my check in favor of Roerich Museum for $100., in payment of my pledge to the little publication which you so kindly brought to my attention. I am delighted to know that the little volume you have in hand is so nearly ready for publication, and shall look forward with keen pleasure to reading it.

Incidentally, Lettice and I are delighted at the prospect of seeing you and so many of our good friends at the Museum this evening.

Very sincerely yours

My dear Miss Lichtmann,

I received your characteristically kind note. You must never, in future, thank me for any little help and co-operation I give to the activities of the Roerich Museum. I am proud to be a worker in the immemorial cause of Culture, and that is honor enough. You are all so full of kindness and courtesy in the building. Where there is good will of this sort life is pleasant and carefree. In my contacts with the great crude world outside I find the very reverse is the common case. But Roerich is Sanctuary. Isn't that a lovely word -- Sanctuary?

I am working hard to put over my Irish Cultural tour. I do hope that I will succeed.

Most cordially in the blessed cause
