The German Association
of The Roerich Museum.

I have the honor to extend to Professor Roerich the sincerest congratulations of the German Association of the Roerich Museum, upon the occasion of the seventh anniversary of the opening of the Roerich Museum.

It is tremendously gratifying that an International Peace movement has become a preeminent factor in this work; a movement not based upon theory,
but upon life; not upon speculation but upon the dissemination of a vital understanding of beauty and knowledge.

And now the German Association of the Roerich Museum asks to extend to Professor Roerich its sincerest thanks in affording it the opportunity to become a new link in the chain of groups of the International Society bearing its name.

(signed) Waldemar Hartmann.
President.

We, of the Spinoza Center, who have so graciously been offered and who have so freely partaken of the bountiful stores of art, beauty and enlightenment which the Museum has thrown open to all seekers, find this occasion a memorable moment in the journey to the "NEW ERA" -- on the road to the "NEW CONSCIOUSNESS". How inadequate must our expressions of gratitude be in the light of this unforgettable moment of attainment and exaltation for the doctrines of Peace and Unity.

May the Roerich Museum and its founders continue with renewed success in this great pioneering endeavor.

May we be permitted and enabled to offer increasing energy and cooperation to this noble venture -- and to link hands in an interminable search to reach the ultimate reality.

And, may the flag of Peace which Professor Roerich has so nobly dedicated to the world, wave in the hearts of men as a symbol of unity and harmony.

The Spinoza Group.
of the Roerich Museum.

The Finnish Society of The Roerich Museum.

Allow me to convey to you the warm felicitations of The Finnish Society at the occasion of the Seventh Anniversary Celebrations.

While joining our Finnish "Elakoon" in the chorus of cheers, which on that day will be raised in many languages all around the globe acclaiming the Roerich Peace Banner, I beg you, Mr. ^{Chairman}~~President~~, to express to Professor Roerich our sincere appreciation of his message and our best wishes for continued success and welfare.

On behalf of the Finnish Society.

The League of New Humanity,
of The Roerich Museum.

The League of New Humanity offers felicitations and tribute to our Honorary President, Nicholas Roerich, upon this Seventh Anniversary of the founding of Roerich Museum. We bring tribute to his great art and to his leadership in behalf of World Peace and World Brotherhood through the symbols of Art and Beauty. These ideals, to be achieved through such a basic cultural understanding and sense of kinship, will, we feel, find common expression in this native mother-tongue of the soul - Love, Beauty, Knowledge. Under this "Banner of Light" we know that all may conquer - ("Vijaiah!")

Our grateful appreciation for the use of this dedicated Temple of Art, wherein we find spiritual sustenance, and in which we foregather to study, discuss and give expression to those creative ideals making for the spirit of Unity and World Brotherhood among all races, nations, creeds and classes.

Our earnest congratulations, here at the Seventh Mile-stone of this dedicated Shrine - and our renewed and continued striving along the path of this illumined Bridge of Beauty.

(signed) Mary Siegrist, Founder,
League of New Humanity.

Professor Roerich's name will be linked to this protecting Banner; his works will live eternally, and humanity will never be able to pay its debt to him. All nations should soon adopt the Banner of Peace, and the universality of his name will go to all corners of the globe, together with those who have worked unselfishly for the benefit of all.

No power on earth can stop Professor Roerich because spirit cannot be chained nor thought enslaved, so we are secure in the knowledge that on this, the symbolic seventh anniversary of the Roerich Museum, through Professor Roerich, who is its founder and its heart, will come increased expansion, power and enlightenment in this, the New Era.

From the Colombian Society
of the Roerich Museum.

On this, the seventh anniversary of the founding of the Roerich Museum, which honors Professor Roerich as its guiding spirit and palpitating heart, we find it a great privilege and pleasure for the Colombian Society of the Roerich Museum to join whole-heartedly in the general rejoicing of the other Societies and Institutions affiliated with the Roerich Museum, as the recipients of his generous ideals of love, tolerance and compassion, which are our beacon and goal.

In Professor Roerich we reverence the artist, the poet and the philosopher, in whose works, with the brush or pen, we are able to discern all the light of the spirit; and it is that light which gives him the courage of his convictions; the power to erect buildings; to lead explorations, and to unite men under your banner for construction and good.

The Red Cross, the symbol of love, has protected the defenseless sick and wounded, and under its arms the fallen warrior feels safe. Thus under the Roerich Banner of Peace the works of art and beauty, the milestones of civilization - painstakingly conceived and lovingly preserved - will be safe for the coming generations.

Dear Professor Nicholas de Roerich:

On this, the seventh anniversary of the foundation of the Institution which honors itself in honoring you who are the guiding spirit and palpitating heart of it, we find it a great privilege and pleasure for Colombian Society of the ROERICH MUSEUM, over which we have the honor to preside, and in whose behalf we are addressing you, to join wholeheartedly in the general rejoicing of the other Societies and Institutions affiliated with the Roerich Museum, as the recipients of your generous ideals of love, tolerance, compassion which are our beacon and your goal.

Sometimes with anxiety, sometimes with apprehension, we have followed your progress toward the sources from which you have extracted your inspiration and wisdom. Your perseverant tenacity, your untiring patience, your devotion and endurance are a perpetual source of inspiration to us all. We appreciate your dauntless spirit hovering over us with its message of comfort and illumination, spurring us with noble stimulus to carry on in the spiritual struggle for art and beauty, peace and harmony which are the bread of spirit.

In you, we reverence the artist, the poet and the philosopher, in whose work, with the brush and pen, we are able to discern all the light which gives you the courage of your convictions; the power to erect buildings; to lead explorations, and to unite men under your banner for construction and good.

Your paintings and your books are the offspring of your spirit; they are your children and you love them tenderly; they are the stepping stones of your immortality on this earth; they will keep your name on this planet, and as a loving father you wish to protect them in order that posterity may be guided by the voice within. But knowing that humanity has not as yet reached perfection, and in order to prevent new irreparable mistakes, you have conceived the Banner of Peace.

The flames that consumed the library of ALEXANDRIA, are the same that consumed Louvain; the shells that destroyed Rheims, and Damascus, and Veracruz are like the catapults which destroyed Ninivah and Babylon. Bigotry, ignorance and fury were the cause of these wanton destructions, and the ruins of Cathage, Chitchen-

Itza and Cuzco are mute witnesses of the error of men, of their fury, their bigotry and ignorance.

The horror which superior and compassionate spirits suffered beholding in the fields of battle, the cowardly murdering of wounded warriors, brought forth the Red Cross, before whose extended crimson arms, open in imploration, all furies stop. The Red Cross, the symbol of love, has protected the defenseless sick and wounded, and under its arms the fallen warrior feels safe. Thus, under the ROERICH BANNER OF PEACE, the defenseless products of the mind, the works of art and beauty, the milestones of civilization painstakingly conceived and lovingly preserved, will be safe for the coming generations.

Your name will be linked to this protecting Banner; your works will live eternally, and humanity will never be able to pay its debt to you. ACADEMY OF CREATIVE ARTS.
ROERICH MUSEUM
NEW YORK, N. Y.

March 24, 1931

A letter of appreciation to Nicholas Roerich celebrating the seventh anniversary of the opening of the Roerich Museum.
To our Beloved Teacher, Greetings:

In the crisis comes the deep and lonely silence, then is test made of the soul and spirit; follows then the knowledge of the supreme value of the teacher resulting in love and service to all men.

Thru our beloved teacher we have been enabled to contact laws that lovingly command the inner man by their very power of wisdom. So we will think directly, keenly, impersonally and universally thru the instruments of all basic law.

By intelligent and sympathetic work with the teacher we call into action creative forces from within, and so are enabled to build on our only true foundation, which is, the God within.

With love and devotion to the teacher, let us FORWARD MARCH
J. Earl Schrack,
President, Academy of Creative Arts.

Humanity seeks for beauty and truth unconsciously- The Academy of Creative Arts is conscious of this seeking and supplies this much needed want.
William Weber, Secretary

One great proof of the success of the Academy of Creative Arts is that a great improvement is visible in all our faithful followers.
E. J. Wheeler, Assistant Secretary.

To Professor Roerich, I value very much the experience and atmosphere that I am getting in the Academy of Creative Arts.
Herbert C. Leech, Chairman, ex. com.

The whole idea of the Roerich Museum is a beautiful symbol which I hope will be kept burning.
Ruth Egri, Executive Committee.

Although I do not paint, I have found the Academy of Creative Arts such a source of inspiration and encouragement.
Cornelia Basky, Executive Committee.

The poverty of the world is too great to repay the debt it owes to its men of genius. The most we can do is to feel grateful for the lives of men whose works have done so much as yours to make us aware of the infinite richness of the human spirit. May the good work you are doing and inspiring others to carry on continue to increase its influence among mankind.
Auriel Bessemer, Executive Committee.

The opportunity of attaining new ideas and inspiration for all is infinite the association of the various art spirits aids in the crystalization of each.
Charles Egri, treasurer.

When love and good fellowship are accompanied by the desire to truly help our fellow men thru our humble talents, success in the eyes of God, is inevitable.
Dorothy L. Dorning.

I have found the Academy of Creative Arts here in the Roerich Museum
