My dear Mr. Horch:

I have had the pleasure of receiving your letter of the twenty-fifth in which you were good enough to tell me of the cable from Professor Nicholas Roerich which mentions my participation in the Third International Roerich Peace Banner Convention.

Please accept my sincere thanks for your goodness in informing me of this courteous act on the part of Professor Roerich. My small part in the Convention was a source of pleasure and satisfaction to me, in part because I could participate with enthusiasm and without reserve in a work of such high idealism, but also because of the opportunity it gave me to know the people who are the life and soul of a movement which has much significance for our culture and civilization.

With my renewed congratulations on the good results of the Convention and my sincere good wishes for the ultimate success of your inspiring efforts, I am,

My dear Mr. Secretary,

Pursuant to your request of yesterday, I am sending you herewith a copy of the draft instruction which we were planning to send to several of our diplomatic representatives abroad with a view to ascertaining the attitude of Foreign Governments toward the Roerich Pact.

As you know the Secretary is, in addition, informing the chiefs of the foreign diplomatic missions here in Washington that you have been invested by the President with full powers to sign the convention based on the Roerich Pact which has been drawn up by the Pan American Union.

Sincerely Yours,

W.P.

The Honorable,
H.A. Wallace,
Secretary of Agriculture

My dear Mr. Horch:

Thank you for your letter of January 14th and for the copy of The Roerich Pact. I have read with great interest the account of the Third International Convention at Washington and congratulate you on the great things you have accomplished. Not only does your work aim toward the protection of art treasures, but it is accomplishing much toward ultimate world peace.

I feel that every person with strong nationalistic tendencies should be forced to spend a period of time in another country. It would make little difference what country it might be, just so they were closely associated in their work with another nationality. That has been my experience and it has given me an international viewpoint that probably could never be developed in any other way. After one has made close friendships with people of another country he realizes the futility of the narrow nationalism that makes the work you are doing so great a necessity.

While Peace Societies and Disarmament Conferences will probably help to spread the doctrine of Peace, your plan is the only practical one I have seen which aims toward the preservation of civilization even during a great conflict.

With all good wishes for your further success,

I am

Very sincerely yours,
