

99. Thou shalt realize happiness in due time.
The mist enfolds the foot of the mountain, but the summit is ever bathed in the sun's glory.
Under the rays the mist cleareth, and thou dost behold My Love.
100. The Teacher rejoices with thee in the glory of creation in life when it tends towards good.
Before thirty the necessary centers do not unfold.
Fifteen years must elapse before the result of the flame is visible.
But the sparks of light are manifest before that time.
101. Cautious judgment will but foster My Cause.
Display understanding and tolerance towards other teachings.
The phenomena of life will convince where words are powerless.
Gather a few of the elect and carefully obliterate the calumnies of the unprepared ones.
102. Amidst a satiate worldly life, the spirit enters not the Temple of Promise.
Happiness is at the portals of thy heart, but it is difficult for the Holy Words to enter.
Happiness has departed from many who have rejected it.
I send thee Bliss.
103. Behold each event as preordained.
The manifestation of it is foreseen by Us.
Every event to thee is a page of the future.
Work in valiance and in peace.
104. The Teacher would reveal how numberless are the assaults upon the walls of the White Lodge.
The hour of Cosmic Understanding will strike.
A miracle performed is as a lamp when lit. Afterwards none can recall the darkened chamber.
- God knows all worlds.
Love and create and full joy will come.
105. M... is accustomed to battle and My children must be wise in battle.
The unity of nations will come through battle.
I rejoice in beholding a valorous spirit.
Fight wisely now, for Our enemies are also thine enemies.
I send thee My Love and Strength.

106. Show might in battle.
Short is the teaching about men, but long is its comprehension.

And the curtain is torn asunder and the Unknown is revealed.
The mind comprehends not the ways of the heart but the heart knows.
I speak not of the things of today.
The spirit is filled with foreboding of coming events -
the currents vibrate.
And the happenings of the Universe are interbound with men's lives and the strings resound complexly.
The Creator's Manifestations should not terrify the warriors but should wing them on.
Forge thy arrows, I am sending love.
107. My children, they will come to thee.
They will write to thee and stand before thee.
They will abase thee and they will extol thee. But thou wilt pass them by as milestones on the way, and thy feet will be cleansed by the snow of the mountains.
The Teacher will adorn thy days with laurel and will refresh thee with His healing aromas.
108. Blessed art thou who evoke the assaults of the evil ones - they attest thy fight for Me.

Fear not inaction, the air is tense and the fiery cross of love will cover thy field of battle and the song of harmony will resound.
109. Wonders are manifest in life.
Open thine eyes and thou wilt perceive,
110. All things will take their designated places and many things will come to pass, and We shall grant many tokens.
Not always does the eye perceive the sun's ray, yet does the sun ever warm the earth.
Love's warmth is lavished upon thee and thy spirit cannot comprehend barrenness of soul.
111. The unworthy will depart.
The Great Plan of the rise of the new race is wisely designed.
112. The Hand of the Teacher revealed the rays-
Comprehend their salutary light,
M... fills thy being with the strength of calmness.
And when the stillness of harmony is upon thee the force of the arrows increases.

113. Austerely dost thou begin the Great Task.
 But the light of My Banner will bless thee and will lead thee
 On the path to manifest My Truth.
 Know to begin - the Teacher will know to send thee His Shield.
 I foresee the happy outcome from the fulfillment of My Command.
 And with the Seal of Solomon I attest - I gave, I give and I shall give.
114. I speak - be vigilant.
 Combine strength and understanding.
 My Ring will seal the happiness of those who spread My Teaching.
115. Amidst the highest vibrations the body will be transformed.
 The body cowers before the spirit - the slave before its master.
116. The Teacher suffered for the words of Truth.
 Men are obdurate on the path to Light.
 Darkness is more pleasing to the eyes of moles,
 But love and knowledge will conquer all.
- Thy spirit will ascend and thy perplexities will pass as swiftly as milestones.
 Smile at the difficulties upon thy path.
 I attest, thou wilt conquer!
117. My children, thou art unaware of the battle which rages around thee.
 Secretly and openly the dark forces are fighting,
 Thy spirit, like a dam, is lashed by the waters, but fear not,
 oh heart, thou shalt conquer.
 The heart unfolds and is flooded with knowledge,
118. Miracles surround thee but amidst life's tumult thou heed'st them not.
 Inscrutable are the ways of God in their infinite means to exalt the spirit, and a blade of grass may transmit the table of Commandments.
- Though the ship encounter the fury of the waves, it reaches its destination.
 The pure service flourishes if its roots be deep buried.
 My Shield is not upon the door but the approaching ones will bear
 My Banner in their hearts.
- Fear not the spear and do not dread the scorpion, the venom will not penetrate thy bodies.
- I am the Morning Flute, calling the flock,
 I am the Waters of the Spring, refreshing the lips of the sorrowful,
 I am the Mighty Pillar of the Temple.
 Approach, ye vigilant ones!

119. My children, the teaching of life's manifestations under My Guidance is the straightest path to Cosmic Understanding. Thou must realize the obstacles of ignorance. The physician can cure only when he understands the symptoms of the illness. Men of vast possessions are often blind to the world's phenomena. Seldom does the preoccupied one perceive the future.
120. In the history of mankind is disclosed the great battle of race-obliteration, and at the call of battle each summoned warrior takes up his arms. Providence leads nations by way of battle, and do thou, My Warriors, guard thyself with the Shield of God's Will, and the Divine Song will ever find echo within thee. Before the Deluge, when men were wedding and feasting and bargaining, Noah was already selecting the most stalwart oaks for his ark.
121. Accept the stern lessons with a smile.
122. It were better to trust thy Guide upon the night path, than to grope thy way in darkness. My children, these hazardous days will pass and thou wilt safely enter the New World by the appointed path.
123. The whole Universe is the Body of the Almighty, and We bear the command of the highest manifestations of the Supreme Will. The servant waits upon the Lord, All-Merciful. According to our zeal do we receive the hue of our spiritual vestment. Let us seek the worthiest attire for the Feast of Light. Oh Thou Benevolence, Oh Thou Sufferer of the Cross, Thou wilt attest the fire of our resurrection there at the foot of the ladder leading to the Temple of Divine Glory.
124. Thy happiness lies in understanding the Divine Energy at the root of the Universe. Let others count the leaves of mango - eat thou the fruit, Guard the roots and fruit, give others the leaves, they are renewed each year.
125. God's plan differs from the ways of men. Again thou hast forgotten the Heavenly combat. None go to school during the assault of the enemies. Times are more complex than thou dost realize. Never was hatred more rampant. But the hour has struck! The hostile forces strive to defy destiny, The doomed ones drive hard the chosen, and We must shield them. Fate can be lightened and the battle brought the sooner to its end.

99. Thou shalt realize happiness in due time.
The mist enfolds the foot of the mountain, but the summit

Never was hatred more rampant. But the hour has struck! The hostile forces strive to defy destiny. The doomed ones drive hard the chosen, and We must shield them. Fate can be lightened and the battle brought the sooner to its end.

126. Austerely and pure in thought commence My Work.
Remember the obstacles at the beginning of every great task.
- The temple gates are shut and prayers are forgotten during the battle, but the flowers of the spirit will blossom and entwine themselves on the old walls.
- Naught can deter the Hand of the Creator of the New World.
I say unto thee: My Shield is covered with arrows but at the spirit's Feast shall We assemble victorious.
Strive for victory. For the present dismiss thoughts of peace and be vigilant, My Warriors!
I know thou art ready to adorn with roses the path of My School, but the times are bitter.
All shall be well.
127. Displaying fearlessness thou showest a noble example to those around thee.
I teach thee to meet life's experiences with light hearts.
I shall explain - I am hastening thy Karma and on the way I strip the masks of men.
The power increases at the manifestation of another soul.
Thou wilt reach that predestined by Christ.
128. Strive for the future and different forces will be summoned for thy aid.
Of various instruments is the orchestra composed, but the symphony is soon ended and the sounds die away through the open window.
- Better to pay heavily, the sooner to learn the predestined path.
The eye will perceive instead of briars a garden nurtured by love.
The heart is aware of the phantoms of the mind, but it knows the truth.
129. Priceless is M...'s Guidance on the road of life.
Dark ones beset the way.
Seldom does the spirit's light assert itself.
Far from tilled is the eternal field. Widespread are discord and hate.
The Chalices of Angels do not terrify men.
As passengers on a short journey are men in their earthly life, facing Infinity.
130. The Bliss manifested on the Heavenly Heights will bestow courage upon the legion of warriors for Truth.
At times the Truth is veiled in symbols.
The mind cannot comprehend the parallels of life and they must be unfolded through earthly signs.
Men need familiar images, and by way of illusion is the spirit uplifted to its True Dwelling.
131. As often as Karma permits, My hand removes the dangers from thy path.
The Earth hides the view of the mountains, yet shalt thou reach them.

132. Each righteous attempt helps the cause,
It is necessary to send the arrows through Me or directly, but the aim must be benevolent.
Arrows may be aimed even at a rogue.
For the sake of My Cause thou mayest be insistent, but without anger;
spreading the creative force of benevolence.
Wrath begets wrath, but My children can extinguish the red flame with the blue ray.
With the power of the blue ray canst thou erect a temple, but the red cloud will blight the noblest tendrils of thy soul.
133. M... has many towers and sentinels upon the slopes of Himalaya.
None without guide shall penetrate the snowy barriers.
Amidst the glaciers Giants keep watch upon the currents of the world.
The fields of ice blossom with pure fire and the air is rich with ozone.
134. Recognize the call even in the fall of the rose petal.
Life is full of calls - the fire brings thee to the summit of Mysteries.
135. Pure tears bring roses to M...
The good does not rust.
136. My Hands bring aid to thee-I send the miracle of Love.
M... has many ways to manifest His Care.
137. My Hands are full of bounties but the opponents must be stopped.
I shall assert the Might of My Teachings upon those of limited mind.
138. Realize the healing power of prana.
The torpor of life is dispelled in the pure rays of the sunset.
Be calm and assert thy wisdom.
M... knows how racked is thy spirit by the hovering shadows, but those who come to scoff - shall pray.
139. Reap wisdom from the manifestations of life.
I shall give thee many tokens, but be watchful.
Imagination cannot compare with life.
140. Let naught in the path of knowledge of Divine Wisdom hinder thee.
Different tasks require different implements.
141. M...'s Flowers flourish not in many gardens but they may blossom even on ice.
As healing ointments, My leaves will cure thy wounds.
142. I will grant thee power to see and hear. The first essentials are purity of air and calmness of spirit.

143. The knots of life are easily untied.
144. Let the happy hunter face his enraged tormenters with courage.
It is good to give a true and serious judgment on the austere and profound manifestations of creation.
It is unworthy to be content with mediocrity and with the clamor of the passing show.
The perception grows and life's experience expands.
145. On pure soil dost thou begin My Manifestations.
I will point out the time for every pure beginning.
Need shall not affront thee.
The laws of men shall not violate thy order.
Deem it a blessing to bring light amidst the dark and inimical hosts.
We have determined to reveal the ways of enlightening cruel hearts - to soften them by the balm of Beauty.
But the iron of the dark spirit is colder and harder than the words of Bliss.
Only with great travail does the Hand of Truth bend the prison bars.
From Above rain the words of Truth but men have fashioned umbrellas to cover themselves from the storm of God's Clouds.
But the shower will saturate even their dry hearts.
We obscure the evil and by lightning illumine the path of Good.
Only the blind can doubt - display patience for the future steps.
146. I give thee happiness - accept it and learn to comprehend its meaning.
All that is possible to hasten without destruction will be hastened.
Life shows its teeth but the spirit is undaunted.
You may calmly face a new year full of events.
The tide is rising. I send My Blessings.
147. Half of human life passes on the astral plane but men do not remember.
Men search for knowledge but perceive it not.
Blessed are you who comprehend the knowledge of the future and its ever-changing outlines.
By love shalt thou learn the boundaries of the new order of life.
The miracle of perception into the future shall come without the sound of cannons.
But the bell will summon each wayfarer lost within the forest.
148. Be not depressed -- the battle was foretold; thou wert forewarned.
The very name of the Master rouses the enemy.
Little wonder that the dark ones would wound My warriors, but the Unseen Guide keeps watch.
Thy impulse is natural - soldiers at the battle line, seeing not their commander, chafe among themselves; but with telephone and spy glass he keeps constant watch.
Accept the fight and try to shield My Name.
The weak are terrified by growls but the strong laugh at the sight of the teeth.

149. We shall assert Our Existence.
 We shall unfold the pure teachings of the happy journey of life.
 Harass not thyself - after thou understandeth the different aspects of Our Teaching, thou wilt walk the broad highway.
 Be benevolent not by impulse but by constant striving.
 With pure spirit must thou work, and all will follow without effort.

150. The ray disperses the clouds - a new path is revealed to the conqueror.

151. Messages come more readily through dry channels.
 Smile - tears interrupt the current.
 Only certain glands may be used, and these as long as they are not irritated.
 With clouds of tears does the world obstruct the beneficial currents.

152. Amidst the unfathomable tumult of life do We erect Our Temple.
 We labor on, and each stone is drenched with the sweat of pain.
 Keep watch upon the school and strive to conceive the Eternal Structure.

Lonely stands the summit - never does the feeling of solitude forsake it.

Blessed art thou if this feeling is known to thee.

Thou art on the way to Us.

Yet the snowy summit feeds the streams of the plains, and waters the fields for harvest.

Upon the summit does the sun bestow its first ray,

And the moon is reflected in its glaciers.

And none know the womb of the hot springs, and they wonder at the seething waters beneath the snow.

Be not afraid of the holy bliss of solitude.

But through love let it enlighten thee.

Love and Lightning do I manifest.

The Lips that have created can forbid.

The light is given - there is danger in retreat.

We need not the weak of mind.

153. Smile - I grant thee the joy of spreading the teaching of Christ,
 The joy of conceiving the Greatness of the Universe,
 The joy of manifested labor,
 The joy of resignation.

154. My Shield, thou canst hold.
 In each pure thought lies the Glory of God.

421. Let those who do not know fill space with outcries and supplications for help.
Those who have reached understanding can assist events.

Do we trouble the long-awaited visitor with personal wishes?
We hasten to open the gates so that the desired one may come in.

Often the hand is outstretched,
But the blind try to reject it.
Therefore, to suppress the conception of children is worse than murder.
Also, it is not right to pile up a complex of one's own wishes.
Before the coming of the guest
It is better to ventilate the house, and in quiet, repeating a prayer, to direct one's eyes to beauty.

Not necessary are countless speculations and designations -
The spirit proceeds freely.
Earth's burden must be lifted.
Layers of effluvia enwrap every cradle.
Blessed is the mother who draws open the curtain to let in the light, and who offers the first blossom.
In quiet, in beauty, and with a smile,
Await those new ones seeking entry into the world.

422. Help in spirit is the most powerful.

423. As blossoms grow cognitions and the solutions to the questions of Being.
Prior to a new understanding, the heart especially aches;
But in a pure place this pain will turn into knowledge.
Fatigue will fly away, and the spirit's findings will rise from the seed like ears of grain.
Beyond the astral are spheres of knowledge of easy communication with the plans of evolution.
The legend about ascension into heaven has a scientific basis.

424. At present you encounter four types of people:
The first is fighting under Our Shield;
The second fights without protection
yet already is terminating the stream of karma;
The third raves wildly, blinded by the dark veil of its fate;
The fourth comprises the enemies of the Light.

The first will understand your call.
The second will quiver with expectancy.
The third will stupidly turn the head away.
And the fourth will answer you arrow for arrow.

- Contd. Therefore, do not reiterate the Teaching.
 Each word falls on due ground,
 And the destined will be received.
 Likewise, do not reject nor deny.
 Each judgment is already a manifest action.
 What is the sense of denying a fire
 when it is already ablaze?
 Yet cover the fire and its force will disappear.
 Likewise, in contradiction of opinions you gain nothing;
 But cover the negative judgment with Our Teaching,
 And the entire city of the enemy will be covered by the cupola of Our Brotherhood, for this dome contains all.
 I give you a shelter, I give you strength,
 I give you a path of beauty.
 I have spoken.
425. The testing of peoples is unending.
 Tests must be repeated until a design is fixed in the brain.
 It is easier to write on the forehead with the hand.
 Truth is better than illusion.
 Lofty is the Truth of the Coming World.
426. In order that My new disciples be able to assimilate My covenant, what has been given before must be sternly repeated.
 Yet each stone cast at you raises your tower.
427. Only time condenses knowledge.
428. In the sacred evening of the Greatest Holy Day,
 In the Name of the Universal Symbol, I say to you:
 You have been admitted to the task of building the New World.
 I say to you: Strengthen your eyes, that you be not blinded when I reveal a glimpse of the brim of the veil of the Future.
- If anxiety arises in you, uplift the shield of devotion,
 For by it you will be saved.
 And repeat the Covenants - I say to you - repeat.
 I have decreed.
- I feel that you can understand.
 I am speaking about serious matters.
 I can raise My Hand for the elect.
 I will uplift a shield.
 Denarius, child of curse,
 obstruct not the path of Light!
 Denarius, belittle not a pure manifestation.
 Regard not the clouds -
 Life is joyful for him who has wings.
 My Smile will watch over you.

429. The victory of loyalty is assured.
Looking afar you will see the near at hand.

430. I will teach you to display Our Triumph to alien and to petty hearts.
I hold above you, in purity, a wondrous cross.

431. The Teacher sees in a mirror a picture of all your movements.
The manifestation of fatigue surrounds you like smoke.
Yet above your shoulders rays of resolution pierce the cloud of weariness.

The heads are adorned with rays of silver.
Alien auras crowd at your feet like abutments of a bridge.
The ascension of courage forces alien auras downward with purple arrows.
The blue flame of the heart smites the smoke of weariness.
The labor goes on; And high aloft are the rays' ends!

432. I Myself read your thoughts each day.
The Teacher verifies the creativeness of beloved disciples.
And when fatigue closes not the lips,
Discourse flows like a Himalayan stream.

433. The stagnant pool will not swallow up pure thoughts.
Far-reaching compassion stands guard,
But love must be sent.
Fortitude will carry you through,
And the self-sacrificing achievements of the spirit will be transformed into the fragrance of freesias.

The Wonders of the Teacher will grow.
Amidst the garden of love grow illuminations of the spirit.

Tire Me today; burden Me more, laying on the weight of the world.
Yet will I increase My strength.
Yet will I increase the strength of My daughter,
for she goes into My garden.
Dost thou hear? The burden will blossom as roses,
And the grass will be arrayed with the morning rainbow.
Therefore, tire Me.
When I go into the beautiful garden, I fear no burden.
I ponder, I ponder, I ponder.

434. From the fir tree you can learn;
It is the same in winter and summer.
