

PSYCHIC ENERGY REFERENCES FROM AGNI YOGA

VOLUME 1

- 63 Not only can one apply prana for one's own use, but by means of psychic energy one can spread a part of his store to others.
- 199 The severe discipline of freedom can reconstruct life only with the new realization of the reality of psychic energy which will enter every day life.
- 214 The crystal of Materia Lucida can be shown only rarely in such magnitude as has been visible to you. For this, there is needed a special converging of magnetic currents. The crystal appears to be attracted by the Stone. It also quickens the center of the third eye and is also the material of astral construction on the highest plane. It pertains to the finest energies and will be an ingredient in the formula of energy promised to humanity if humanity will desire to accept it. This light can be intensified to infinity, and will provide illumination which does not demand the expenditure of any material and can assume any form. This problem may be given but the desire of humanity is necessary. Otherwise one cannot give access to the current of fine energies. -The forces of these energies are linked with psychic energy, hence each abuse is destructive. One should remember that not alone for illumination but for healing, Materia Lucida is unreplaceable; because it will be the best remedy for the calming of nerves, as it affords a bridge between the psychic energy of humanity and the cosmic energy, the reservoir of which is inexhaustible.
- 216 Each century the psychic energy has been imperatively awakened in humanity; but usually this beneficent ordinance was not accepted by bipeds...The beginning of the present century was marked by signs of war and national upheavals but psychic energy directed towards the conquest of other worlds. Thus wilfully were the destined values perverted.
- 220 One may realize what consternation will be provoked by these inexplicable movements of the centers if we will not approach them through the channel of psychic energy.
Strangely enough, all study of the physical traces of Imperil may give understanding of the precipitation of psychic energy....The precipitant of psychic energy will be discovered, because each energy has its physical crystal..... But chemistry will disclose the tangible reality if it will meet the true understanding of psychic energy and all-binding fire.
- 229 Consider, that if the emanations of psychic energy are visible to the naked eye, then they are tangible.
- 254 The striving of people corresponds little to the properties of psychic energy. Certain qualities of this energy have lost the traces of consciousness. What may be considered most remarkable, is that the psychic energy can act at great distances as though independent.
- 255 You proclaim the psychic energy and immediately diverse conditions, small and great, distant and close, are drawn to it. The psychic energy becomes a true magnet; many would be surprised to learn that a metal magnet and the psychic energy are actuated by the same energy. Those who placed magnets over the crowns of their heads for deepening the consciousness knew fragments of the great Teaching. Collecting the magnetic waves out of various regions, they reinforced their store of psychic energy.

- 257 One may be asked how to comprehend the benefits of obstacles, if the psychic energy as a magnet gathers all advantages. Truly when a large ship increases its speed, then the power of resistance of the waves increases. Many obstacles are invoked by our striving. The same process attracts to us unsuspected particles of the opposing will. If they are very strong, Our stroke develops accordingly. Chiefly, the encountered currents should be strong because then our enflaming is evoked.
- 260 One should examine equally the correlations of sound and color. This grade of development of psychic energy is called luminous.
- 297 How to await the time when people will comprehend the power of psychic energy? As madmen they play at the very edge of the explosion and in their error regard this planet as the most solid body....Search the energy which will alter your existence, if it is consciously evoked. We speak for the sake of those who may live.
- 306 The cumulation of psychic energy of space creates explosions in parts of the planet. The organisms which attune to the Breath of the Great Mother, reverberate in accordance with the explosions of the bodies of space.
- 308 The manifestations of psychic energy are founded on fire....
- 311 ...it is evident to us that discordance usually results only from uncorrelation of rhythm. Of course, this lack of correlation impedes the unity of the psychic energy of entire groups, whereas it is just the group energy which can bring closer the utilization of the rays without annihilation or burning of forces.
- 323 Primarily one must realize the presence of the psychic energy....one must take precautions against the fiery sickness. The first remedy in this regard will be the realization and mastery of the psychic energy. Then do not disdain to affirm that valerian may be a powerful guardian amidst the flame. As simply as possible think about the psychic energy.
- 329 ...much which is ascribed to rheumatism and nervous disturbances should be ascribed to fire. One can easily rid oneself of these pains by the discovery of the matter of psychic energy. When these sediments obstruct the nerve channels one can then expect all manner of painful developments. As stones in the inner organs, so injurious may be the crystals of psychic energy if the energy is not utilized. Especially dangerous is the conflict of the crystals of psychic energy with the sediments of Imperil. Often organisms nervously developed are sickly. Therefore the experimental research of the psychic energy is so needed. One easily accepts that which is subject to physical measurements.
- 342 When decomposing matter it is necessary to know that outside of various ingredients there will always be found two elements to which no names are ascribed. The first will be the precipitant of psychic energy; the second the substance of fire. As long as the crystal of the psychic energy is not ascertained, the substance of fire cannot be realized. Just as the precipitant of psychic energy may be perceived through Imperil, the substance of fire will be ascertained according to the tension of the psychic energy....to act with the poison of irritation is far simpler than to seek the superior psychic energy.

- 360 When people will realize the psychic energy, the New Era will affirm itself,
- 363psychic energy remains forgotten, although psychic waves are far stronger than all other threads of space. It is entirely scientific how the waves of psychic energy act as astro-chemical rays. There can be observed regions of reaction and counteraction at the furthest distances. Not personal will, not realization of the astral world, but the accumulation of the waves of space, as the consciousness of the Cosmos, reacts upon all sensitive receivers. One may imagine what power sweeps over the world if behind it are born legions of smiles or terrors.....Other races have paid attention to the action of the psychic energy. But our passing race is unwilling to leave such a beneficial heritage to its descendants.
- 378Let us observe all signs of fire and of psychic energy. Thus we shall affirm the understanding of the similarity between these supreme conceptions. And thus gropingly, we shall discover the evidences of the fine energies in everyday life.....A conclusion should not be prompted by a command, but must pass through the channels of psychic energy. Let us carefully watch.
- 384 It is necessary to learn to organize the psychic energy. It is easy to see how non-correlated forces prevent results. And if at the same time impatience is shown, the results may then be lost altogether.
- 386 Psychic energy requires exercise and you see how difficult is its application.
- 387 Among the experiments with psychic energy, there are quite feasible and useful ones. To exercise the energy on human beings and animals borders on danger because it is not easy to avoid the return blow.Especially effective for experiments are plants.....Take several plants of the same kind and of approximately the same age....Place them in the same room and watch them personally without displaying any preference. After two months separate the plants into three groups and place them in different rooms. Be indifferent to the first group, send your best will to the second and send your will of destruction to the third. Of course perform these transmissions at a short distance and use the rhythm of Mahavan. It is useful to have these transmissions increased and decreased for seven days each. Three times daily is sufficient - at sunset, at noon and in the morning. In the morning the plants can be watered, adding a pinch of soda to the water. At sunset they should be watered with a solution of Valerian....In this way the emanations of psychic energy may be increased. Afterwards one can of course demonstrate with interesting results, the effect of psychic energy on water and air currents....
- 388 Stones are not behind plants in experiments of psychic energy. Rhythm compels the sand to assume various designs. Psychic energy can produce vibrations with the same result. The old proverb that the will moves mountains, is based on vibration.
- 389 Of course, Imperil is the main destroyer of psychic energy. But one should not forget also the three disturbing forces; fear, doubt and self-pity. When the measuring of psychic energy is placed on a mechanical basis, it will be instructive to see how those obscurations interrupt the flow of energy.

This flow of energy is supported by such efforts as are found in self-denial and achievement. The abstract conceptions will bear witness to the acknowledgment of the energy of the Life Principle which is measurable and conceivable.

I affirm that the fires evoked by the cited rhythm, not only can be intensified, but can also be of useful service, in strengthening of psychic energy. The fire of space, like a sword, smites these obscurations.

- 390 The recognition of the psychic energy as a tangible substance, will give rise to new thoughts throughout all life.
- 391 ...well organized psychic energy can help, retaining the karma of dates near the personality.
- 397 One of the meanings of a hermitage was that of hiding in order to safeguard psychic energy.
- 398is it not important to observe the effects of the appearances of meteors on the psychic energy of people?....The observations regarding the psychic energy of humanity are more important than the measuring of humidity or the calculation of heat....
- 400everything is useful for turning humanity towards the psychic energy. It is absurd to imagine that man has to be persuaded to utilize a power which has long been his own.....Nevertheless the thought of space acts!
- 405 Miracles must be avoided because the application of psychic energy will be the highest manifestation of purified rationalism.
- 407Human life cannot be rent apart from the laws of psychic energy.
- 409Verily, many animals sense the psychic energy better than people.
- 416 Calling it psychic energy we speak of the same Sophia of the world of the Hellenes or Sarasvati of the Hindus. The Holy Ghost of the Christians manifests signs of psychic energy just as Adonai, the Creator of Israel, and as Mitra, are full of solar power. Certainly, no one doubts that the fire of Zoroaster is the fire of space which you study.
Psychic energy binds the fire with Materia Matrix and the Teaching of Agni Yoga is nothing else than the expression of contemporary application of energy, the stream of which is approaching with Satya-Yuga....are not they mad, who try to exist without a mind as what mind is not nurtured by psychic energy?
- 419 ..Even the most humble conjurer requests first of all an image or an intimate object. These objects direct his psychic energy and help to increase the reaction as a beacon or milestone....the astral teraph has the privilege of being the only one and to take the appearance according to necessity..... The astral teraph is the crystal of psychic energy; as the material one is the product of material striving. The chief act is performed during the creation of the teraphim, because just then the psychic energy is most tense...
- 420 ...through various countries is scattered a multitude of teraphim and each one gathered strata of psychic transmissions. On these strata of psychic energy it is curious to observe the vitality of this energy.....

Amidst the experiments with psychic energy the experiment of indissolubility and indistructibility is very important.....The teaching about the teraphim and conjured objects comes from great antiquity, when the Atlanteans knew about psychic energy.

How to create a teraph? One must find a place where the psychic energy of the conjurer has sufficiently saturated the space and settled upon the objects....

- 422When the most complicated mechanism is invented would not its creator search for means of simplification? Likewise with the application of psychic energy. The majority has completely forgotten about it, the minority has brought its use to the point of cold fanaticism. But the fire, as the base of psychic energy is not related to cold.
- 423 What is the relation between musk accumulated physically and the phosphorus of spirit? Musk will also be the precipitation of fire, but of an unconscious precipitation. But even the unconscious crystal of fire contains the treasure. Will not the pure fire of space be the living link with the higher worlds? Will not this plain question be aroused in the unprejudiced consciousness? If, however, we term the teraph as the precipitation of the psychic energy, even this conception will be easy to understand. So let us not fear to take out the gifts of Pandora and their significance may appear different for the enlightened traveler.
- 438 The so-called command of will power is a sending of psychic energy, which being the product of the element of fire, strikes the weaker radiations through the fiery encirclement. It means that for strengthening of the aura is needed not only the pure consciousness but also the approach of the fire of space....The one who is capable of thinking of psychic energy, must already know about the fire of space....
- 445Amidst earthly conditions, psychic energy is trained to accept into its cognizance a new kind of body.
- 447 The degree of psychic energy may be discerned according to quality but not power. Speaking without exception the lowest quality of energy is possessed by the medium, as it is subject to all the surrounding conditions, even atmospheric ones, and the Teachers are greatly concerned about this property.
Then comes the long list of partial manifestations of psychic energy without synthesis of spirit. Someone may see or hear, without merging with the Teaching. Certainly the most needed type of psychic energy for evolution is that of mediators; possessing sensitiveness, they always preserve the synthesis of Teaching. This quality of synthesis, accumulated by the experiences of ages, protects them from dark influences.
One may be interested in mediums, but mediators must be esteemed and appreciated.
- 448 ...Why do people say "seemingly" and perhaps", when they see and feel? Only by decisive affirmation, psychic energy grows....
- 465 ...it is not easy to perceive the radiance of psychic energy.....One should not violate the growth of conquest of psychic energy.....

- 470The layer of high psychic energy connects with the fires of space. One can rarely see these fires in a large measure. AS the heavenly vault is filled with the radiance of the far-off worlds, so the fires sparkle over the crown of the head. Through this the quality of psychic energy is refined. We must rejoice at every refinement of psychic energy. In this incarnation we have to crystallize the psychic energy. When we pass to the astral plane we must bring not only the cognizance of the future, but must also kindle our striving with the crystal of psychic energy. Otherwise the passing ones merge into the twilight of the dross of survivals. Therefore the accumulation of psychic energy is precious.
- 471 Precisely the quality of psychic energy is important. It is correct to presume that the potentiality of psychic energy is contained even in lower organisms. It gives instinct but not consciousness. It corresponds to the lower layers of the atmosphere and stays there. It will correspond to the centers of the lower part of the organism. Therefore one has to know how to master the psychic energy, projecting it towards attainment. Psychic energy is refined through thought....
- 474 The cultivation of bacteria is useful only as a study of mature, with the purpose of their destruction. Precisely, they have to be destroyed. This element harms the best secretion and may be considered the enemy of psychic energy, As rust stops the wheels, so this waste product of mechanical process obscures the straight knowledge.
- 477 People have completely lost the understanding and the application of psychic energy. They have forgotten that each energy brought into motion, produces inertia. It is almost impossible to arrest this inertia, therefore each manifestation of psychic energy pursues its reaction upon inertia sometimes even durably. One may already have altered ones thought, but the consequence of the last projection will nevertheless pierce the space; in this lies not only the power of psychic energy but also its quality which deserves special care. Only through enlightened consciousness may one master psychic energy, in order not to obstruct one's path with sendings of the past.All that is said about psychic energy concerns every action. There is nothing abstract, as psychic energy is contained everywhere in nature and is especially expressed in man. Much as man would try to forget it, it reminds one of itself and the task in enlightenment is to teach humanity how to use this treasure. If the time has approached to speak of the physical visible sediments of psychic energy, it means reality entered into evidence. It means people must strive without delay to master the psychic energy. The fire of space and psychic energy are linked and represent the basis of evolution.
- 479 L. is especially needed by the sediments of psychic energy, because those crystals can be guarded in the substance of L. The preparation of L. can also cover the nerve centers, where the psychic energy settles....
- 480The alkalization of the accumulated dust cleanses the way for psychic energy....
