

Mira, 1934, May, Vol. 3. No. 2

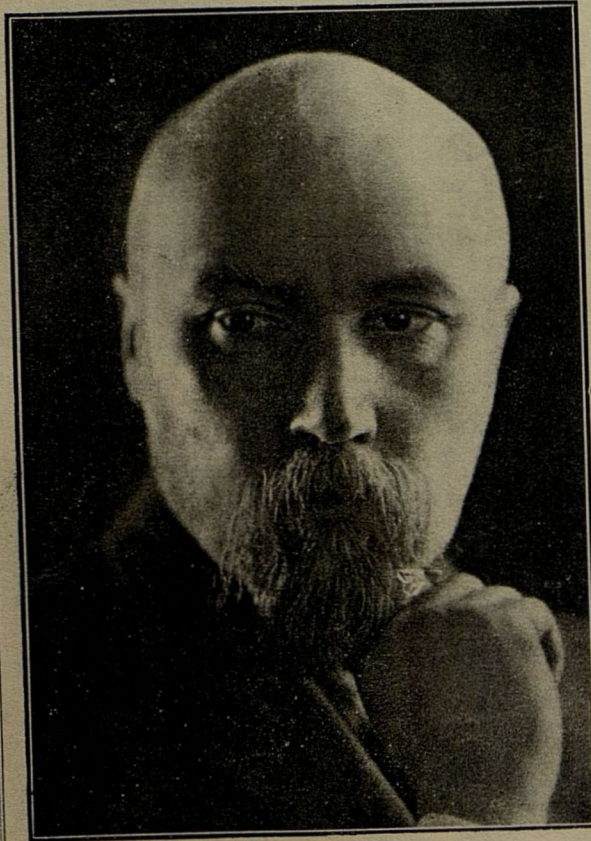

RISHI ROERICH'S BLESSINGS

His Excellency Prof. N. de Roerich sends the following letter to Vaswaniji. Prof. Roerich, also, kindly, sends two inspiring poems for the Mira [East & West]. We publish one in this issue. -Ed.

My dear venerable Friend,

I see from the last issue of "MIRA" that this Magazine has now been consolidated with 'East & West'. From the very beginning, I had some feeling that the paths of these two noble messengers should merge into one. It is always joyful to observe when mountain streams join into one mighty torrent, which can render fertile innumerable fields and orchards. You have always been striving so heroically towards unity and, therefore, let us bless every benevolent unification.

In Spirit with you

H. E. PROF. ROERICH

N. de Roerich

oday. But
th a vision
re witness
shna".

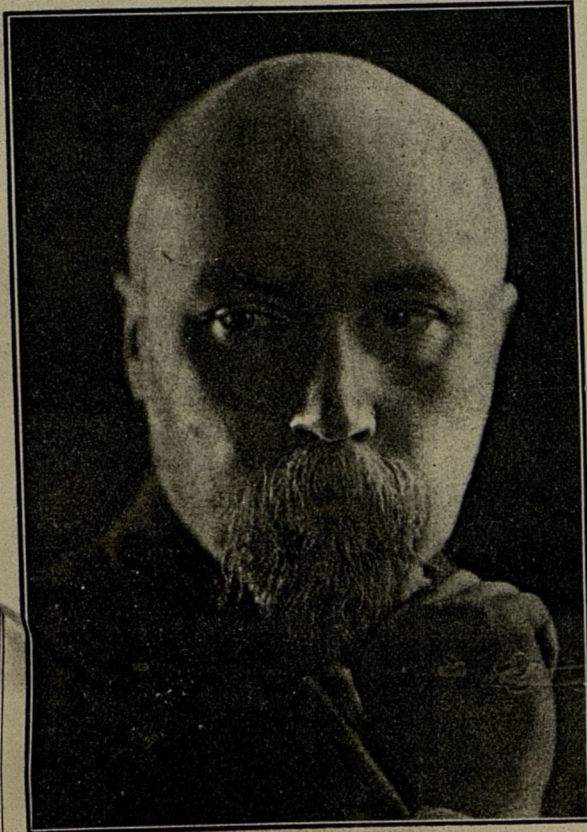

is named
In this
Mr. Gan-
re message
o students
l. Quota
nd Tolstoy and 'The sympathy'
ords, the
inspires
e Roerich chers and ira's High
a beloved
ages from
Vice-Chan-
Principal Women's
d N. R.
nd 'Assem-Gobindram
nd Govern-
azi Gulam
nstruction
wani, M.A; Principal
A., S. T. C., ran Pher-
poem in
he 'Mira len one's lection.

Mira, 1924, May, Vol. IV, W2

RISHI ROERICH'S BLESSINGS

His Excellency Prof. N. de Roerich sends the following letter to Vaswaniji. Prof. Roerich, also, kindly, sends two inspiring poems for the Mira [East & West]. We publish one in this issue. -Ed.

My dear venerable Friend,

H. E. PROF. ROERICH

I see from the last issue of "MIRA" that this Magazine has now been consolidated with 'East & West'. From the very beginning, I had some feeling that the paths of these two noble messengers should merge into one. It is always joyful to observe when mountain streams join into one mighty torrent, which can render fertile innumerable fields and orchards. You have always been striving so heroically towards unity and, therefore, let us bless every benevolent unification.

In Spirit with you

N. de Roerich