Histoire de la Civilisation Française par A. Rainband. p. 143. Des qu'rene terre est entrée dans le domaine ecclésiastique, elle n'en sort plus: elle devient, comme on dit, terre de main morte, car l'Église, qui a la main vivante pour recevoir, a "la main morte" pour donner. Miss Grant's report of her visit to Washington, sent in after the meeting:

In accordance with the information transmitted to the Trustees. Miss Grant went to Washington on receipt of a letter from Mr.W announcing that he had cabled to Prof. Rogich to change his route. On her arrival she went to see Mr. W. together with Mr. Lichtmann, who was in Washington on his musical project. Mr. W. declined to discuss the subject, and showed a changed attitude to Father. He refused to see them a second time so , that Miss Grant was unable to transmit Mme. Roerich's cable. He stated that he would accept messages through Mr. Horch.

> In view of the grave situation, Miss Grant asks the advice of the Trustees as to what they feel should be the best action. She would deeply appreciate any suggestions they may have in this regard.
