

to Dr S. Chaudhuri . W.M.S.
34 Lady Hardinge Road.
New Delhi.

6th April, '49.

My dearest friend Devika,

Had I written to you as many times as I thought of you you would have received piles of letters by this time -

Your affectionate letters has given me great joy and courage, I am indeed grateful to you and your husband for all your encouragement in my work, and I am very proud to have you as my friends.

My studio is thoroughly disinfected and I am looking forward to welcome you in my den. Just drop me a line to the address given above. More when we meet.

My kindest regards to your husband. Hope you are both keeping well. I have been working hard as advised by you, but wonder, if it is worth doing so. It is all very depressing, with lots of love Ever yours affly
Tirindi