My dear Devikaji

What a wonderful surprize it was to receive that charming bag from you - it kept me guessing till I saw the card, it is awfully sweet of you to have thought of me and taken all that trouble for which I thank you a lot.
I received your letter the other day which gave me ^{your} address in Kalimpong and hence the delay in acknowledging the lovely gift. I must tell you that the packing was exceptionally good on which I specially remarked and it reached in perfect condition and I must mention that I used it the same afternoon!

So you are up in the mountains now; I can imagine how lovely it must be there and an ideal place for Roesich to paint in - I wish we could pay you a visit! So you are going direct down South from there and missing out Rulu this year in which case you won't be coming to Delhi for some time.

Delhi is at its best now with the gardens in full bloom and real spring feeling but unfortunately it doesn't last like this for very long and will soon be warming up.

The activities here seem to go on all the same as there is always something or the other on.

With our best regards and good wishes to you both.

Yours v. sincerely
Toshi Chopra.
