

Dear M.R.,

*I never knew a man as bold
as you Abeyona*

M. has delivered with power the message as to the displeasure of the Lord at the diminishing of the Name. For some hours we talked of the high purposes and glorious power of the Lord and the position of his Representative and the respect due him. I do not know the specific instance referred to but the failure undoubtedly consists in not keeping the Lord, his Envoy and the Plan more continuously and definitely in mind.

In all humility I ask for strength of continuing purpose so that I may most effectively crucify a body which may have been made unduly dull by the buffetings of the past two years. But above all I desire to return to the Tara and the Master a heart pure in purpose, vigorous in the intensity of its insights and triumphant over irrelevancies.

Yes, I ask for Heart help and I offer Heart Service. May I become a living Teraphim. Yours to command.

In deep reverence I bow across the seas and the thirty days of time to those who are so dear to the Great Ones in the time of great trial.

Dear Mother of the Druids,

It is the birthday of the En. and this morning early an hour before I arose I thought of him and G and tried to visualize them in their far off setting.

Your letter profoundly moved my spirit. Sources of difficulty are now clear which before were only darkly perceived.

Your letter is as an electric shock, stimulating my resolution to act with precision and speed.

The Command is "Honour and Vindicate the Name."

I have read and re-read your letter many times. At first it stunned me with the sense of responsibility for terrible disaster but gradually I began to perceive the necessity of assembling the maximum of effective force for the future.

I now wish to tell you concerning steps which have been taken toward vindicating the Name:-

Ry returned from his long trip on Sept. 10 and on that day I read for the first time terrible letters from the evil subordinate. Both men have been recalled and regrets for the insubordination have been expressed by cable. Also letters have been sent to the proper people to endeavor to repair the affront to the Highest. In all of this F has been of inestimable value because of longer experience, a more direct knowledge of objectives and a more vigorous executive spirit.

The two evil ones are now on the sea.

The indication to demote and transfer is being carried out. Control is now completely out of his hands. But doubtless there will be further trouble, much of it perhaps from O.H. sources which doubtless lead this man astray and inspired the evil one.

Gave W a book with the BP symbol on it and spoke of its source as I had several times before. He first facetiously said he was glad the three spheres were close together, that it then did not then look so much like the three ball symbol of the pawn shop-a comment which he had also made before. I then spoke of a book called Gabriel over the White House said to have been written by Lloyd George's Secretary. He said he had not read the book but had seen the play which had been filmed by Hearst money. I said there were two men in the World who had impressed me as having Gabriel over them and that one of them was . I asked if he would like a statement from him. He said Yes, that he would like very much to sit down and visit with him for an evening in a quiet way. He had expressed this desire at least once before. Unfortunately with respect to rulers and tigers he is badly mixed up as are nearly all the people. He is like a joyous boy.

A year ago like a child I was learning to walk and talk. Not till the arrival of En did I understand certain things and not until your letter did other certainties appear. A month ago a few days after the terrible letters had provoked profound melancholy I went to sleep and woke up with the intense desire to read Foundations of B. The passage beginning with page 131 especially impressed me. A few days later this intuition was confirmed by a letter from you.

Looking back I find that my faith has been greater that it should be and my action less. My whole instinctive approach has been different to many problems. But slowly, humbly, resolutely I am learning to talk the language.

May the Glory of that Name shine forth which first appeared 60 years ago. May the L be so exalted that there may be purchased for humanity abiding love of Beauty and may that irritation disappear which flows from that inequity which Amos so vigorously denounced.

I was overjoyed with the picture by G.F. Watts which has been a favorite of mine for nearly 30 years because an Aunt of mine who reminds me greatly of you gave a reproduction to me with the verse, "My strength is as the strength of ten because my heart is pure." Truly this Aunt and her daughter who is now dead must have been close to you at some time.

May I appreciate your life-giving courage in the midst of the Siege Perilous,

Galahad

February 3, 1935.

Dear H.R.,

In response to your profoundly moving letter, I told your entrusted messenger that the Will of the Lord was all governing and in all solemnity I must again indicate my desire to obey the Indications as transmitted by the new messenger.

On re-reading the letter today I am impressed by the phrase "if you know how Commanders guard the sacred Indications", the solemnity of which I full well grasp but the precise meaning of which may not be within my mind. My belief is Commanders guard the sacred Indications by carrying them into action with the utmost of their power, wisdom and strategy. Furthermore I would assume that Commanders thus entrusted would guard the Indications from the knowledge of all but the entrusted ones.

Reading your letter I again know that the language of the Great Heart speaks moment by moment of every day to those whose ears and perceptions are truly open.

If I do not understand, may your spirit guide me. If my will falters may the language of Great Heart shake me.

We have made progress, I believe, in defending the Name and the Pact.

Respectfully and in spirit yours,

G

Dear Madam R,

The Fiery Witness and the Knight brought the Message with great joy. Also the Image of Boundless Light. For all of this my heart goes out to you.

From the first meeting with the Fiery Witness some seven years ago I recognized some of that which you point out. But the memory of the past to which you refer is on my part a heart feeling and not a precision of recollection. Concerning all of those whom you mention as being close to the secret of your heart I have instinctively joyous, kindly feelings. We have started building.

The Image of Boundless Light with its aura of three interlocking spheres is a constant reminder of the Message of the Banner. Truly I will treasure it and keep it near me for hours of stress. I am preparing to help the Messengers moving on behalf of the Prize.

The Fiery Witness and Knight carry with them the joy of the New Dawn-Shambhalla. The Banner and its message.

In joyous spirit responding,

Dear Madam R,

I have accepted with great joy the three lovely spirits whom you have sent to me. On April 15 with great throbbing of the heart they watched the official symbol of the unfurling of the Banner of Peace.

O and L with helpful letters are now setting out across the sea to accomplish the next task.

I have received via M a number of different seeds from Svetik. Some of these will be started to growing this spring.

And now I shall seek the will of the Lord through the Fiery Witness, the True Daughter and the Knight of Spirit and yourself.

In humble service to the command,

Dear Madame R,

159 years after the original July 4 in the Capital of the United States of America. A lovely day and thoughts move to the snowy heights and the Lord who moves in majesty across the mountains.

You will have a letter from Modra which will greatly disturb you. I cannot work with her further because I believe her judgment to be bad and her ability to transmit accurately to be low.

With OPL I can work. With Modra I can not. I do not trust her and therefore I cannot work with her. In saying all this I recognize her fiery allegiance to the Lord. But my path is not her path and nothing more need be said.

I saw Stephen and he was most friendly about the New Country but his hands are tied and he cannot move in any direct way. The loan in any direct way is absolutely impossible. Stephen cannot originate in a matter of this sort.

Each of us must act to the limit for the Lord in a manner befitting his past, his present, and his potential future,- always acting on the highest plane.

May the Lord's Name be praised,

g
