Dear Madam Rerick,

It was very sweet of you to send the wire.

I am sure you will be pleased to know that we are both doing very well.

We have got such a lovely little boy, he weighed $7\frac{1}{2}$ lbs when he was born and is now 7.12, we are all very proud of him.

I shall be sitting up for an hour to-morrow.

We hope to return to Naggar on the 4th and shall be looking forward to seeing you.

With best wishes from us
both.

Yours sincerely

Eris.

Dear Madam Roerich,

I wonder if I could borrow two loaves of bread — something went wrong with ours and I need it for tea to-day, I can let you have them back to-morrow.

I am returning a cartridge that Ate borrowed, he will return the other two later, as he cannot find them at the moment. Yours sincerely Doris!

Dear Madam Poerich,

I am so sorry to trouble you — but I wonder if you could lend me a dozen eggs —
I shall be able to return
them to-morrow.

I wonder what the news is — I must come over and find out.

Yours sincerely
Lris
