My dear Sir:

Lincoln Memorial University cordially invites you to be represented in its Hall of Holography which was organized some time ago and which now contains many autographed photographs and original letters of the great men and women of this and past generations.

We feel sure that if you could see the two rooms that we have set apart in our library for this purpose, you would be impressed with the magnitude and uniqueness of our enterprise. The field of literature is represented by autographed photos or letters of Kipling, Whitman, Emerson, Masfield, Longfellow, Tennyson and numerous others. In the diplomatic realm our collection includes similar documents of men like Gladstone, Disraeli, Austen Chamberlain, Jefferson, Monroe, Jackson, Lincoln, Lloyd George and hundreds of others. Other fields of human endeavor are similarly represented. You will immediately realize how helpful it is to the students of the arts and sciences to be able to view the photographs and handwriting of those about whom they are studying.

We earnestly urge you to send us an autographed photo of yourself, and also, if possible, a letter of tribute to Abraham Lincoln at whose personal request this University was founded. If it is not convenient to send us either a photo or a letter, we would at least like a copy of your signature. Without your contribution our collection will not be complete.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Stanley McCordock
Professor of History
