Dear Mr. Roerich,

Thank you for your letter. I am glad to ~~say~~ hear that things go well with you. I am sorry to say that I have been through a good deal of trouble and sickness at home, but here in the Library all is well.

I am enclosing a list of the books we have of yours and should be very glad to receive any others that you are pleased to present to the London Library.

I look back with pleasure to your short stay in London and have the picture of the Viking ship on my walls at home. Indeed you are fortunate to be away from the turmoil of Europe and to enjoy the peace of the mountains.

With kindest greeting,

Ever yours sincerely,

Hughes Wright
