My dear Mrs. Mukherji,

I am sending you for your magazine the article of Barnet Conlan the wellknown Art Critic with a photograph of my Father and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru taken at Kulu in 1942 during Panditji's stay with us. Kindly use the photograph with the article and as you will note I have shortened the article by having reduced some of the articles of the Pact which I felt were not important in this case.

You can use this article whenever you like but I think it would be a good idea to have it as soon as possible because at the present moment in Moscow they are holding a large comprehensive Exhibition of Father's paintings at the State Tretyakov Gallery which will run for the next 3 months. It occupies 4 halls of the Museum. The Exhibition contains a number of paintings of the Himalayas and as the Indian Ambassador K.P.S. Menon remarked in his speech at the opening, "no one has depicted the grandeur and the true significance of the Himalayss as Nicholas Roe-rich".

Kindly let me know when this article will appear in "Rhythym".

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

P.S.

Kindly return the photograph I am enclosing after you have used it.

Mr. Tampy has written to me regarding the article on Gurudev Roerich and I am glad you shall be using the photograph of Panditji and my Father taken at Kulu.

It is not clear from your letter what you propose to do about the article that I have sent to you, kindly let me know when you plan to use it.

With my kind regards,

Yours very sincerely,
