Dearest Priya & Svetoslav,

Your doctor is an absolute angel. Both Priya and I fell in love with him. What manners and what culture and wisdom. An adorable old gentleman. My heart breaks for him for being all alone. —

Your house looks so lovely covered with ^{creepers} ~~flowers~~ all over, hundreds of roses in every hook and nook. Those stone carvings on the portals and the garden look so very attractive. When we meet next please tell me what is from place. That Tibetan looking lady ~~and~~ on horse-back beneath the tree is terific. -

As planned we went to happen on the dog of the mels. Reached your house after 4 PM (What a climb!!!) and had an enormous tea. ~~The~~ home made bread, jam, ~~the~~ fresh dennis, I have no idea how all three of us gorged ourselves! I had 6 sandwiches!! and at least a large plateful of dennis.
The others who were here left for the mels, but we played on till 7:30 Jollabando till quite late as we preferred his company to the mels. We got back to Manshi about 9 PM., bringing along with us a basket full of dennis and ~~to~~ a bottle of cherry jam, which the doctor so greatly gave us on our departure. -

What a treasure your place is, the view is something quite extraordinary.
The one thing I regretted immensely that there wasn't a single painting either from the father or from the son. What a perpetual Museum that house must have been when the paintings were living. —

Thank you for your thoughtful telegram, it was so sweet of you to have sent it. — We shall try once more to get to happen just to meet the old gentleman. —

Life is delightful here, we just cannot understand how we shall be able to work again and face Yellie after all this dolce-far-viende! —

Please do convey my most respectful regards to Mr Roelrich, and love to you both

Don't forget he sends his for love too!!!
