Under the shadow
of the Masters!
Jan. 11-1930.

Dear E.J.L.

You were so dear to send me the card of the glorious Mountain- I do so appreciate it, and bless you in the wonderful joy of being there with Madame Roerich.

You may smile at this gift I send- it comes from my home in California and I thought perhaps your household might enjoy a taste of our fruit. You, I know, have such wealth of spiritual food that all else matters little. But you will have my thought and my love and all good wishes for this year of 1930. May it be the most radiant of all your life.

Two of my closest and dearest friends have just gone to India- Dr. and Mrs. Tanner- and it would be wonderful if you could meet them. But I do not know where they will be, except, I know, at Adyar, as they are lovers of HPB and of the Masters.

Little Jimmy Mather played the Barcarolle in his school the other day and astonished his teachers. I wish you could hear him. He loves Mr. Lichtmann, but truly misses you, and one day, I trust you will teach him again- for there is great beauty hidden in his soul, and I feel his music will play a big part in his life in forming a bridge from intellect to the spirit. I do bless you for giving him his start, my dear.

Your children all missed you sorely- they missed your rock-like quality- adamant, and pristine- Surely you must belong to the Diamond Soul! The Mothers missed you too- but you have left your mark upon all your children for all time. The touch will never be erased.

Bless you, my dear- for ever and ever!

In Love,
Glaire Lounsbury
