

September 15, 1933.

The Honorable Cordell Hull

The Secretary of State

Washington, D.C.

Sir:

In begging for the favorable attention of yourself and your Department for the Roerich Peace Convention to be held in November, I do so on behalf of the scientific work of American and International Archaeology.

In my various trips, especially through the field work of Near East archaeological expeditions, I have been more than favorably impressed with the importance of the outlook and work of the Roerich Peace endeavors. They certainly deserve all the support that the State Department of our national government can give them.

Respectfully submitted,

R.V.D. Magoffin.
