

1

Vienna,
June 17. 1921.

Dear Sir,

All that I can do for you from a distance is to write those few words of hope that your spiritual aspiration may come out victorious from all obstacles inner and external. It is needless to say that all expressions of truth need obstructions, -- great works of sculptures are made not out of wax, but of stone. Men are artists in life and out of materials that are inert and inexpressive in themselves man's spirit creates its world of ideals.

Rabindranath Tagore