

7
New York City,
Sept. 8, 1936.

Mr. V.A. Shibayev,
Naggar, Kulu,
Punjab, British India.

Dear Mr. Shibayev:

I am sincerely grateful to you for the occasions you have afforded me to be of some service to you here. With the growing comprehension of the examples of infinite service before us, our own inabilities become so apparent that we truly welcome any opportunities to be of assistance that fall within our narrow limitations.

Please be assured, that I share your hope that we may meet in the not too distant future, and of my wish, that in the meantime our hearty cooperation may be of some worth to the world.

Very truly yours,

Gene Fordich

P.S. I am sending $10.00 to you which I beg you to use to help cover some of your many expenses for reprints, post-cards etc.

G.F.