To
The Publishers of
" THE HERITAGE ".

It is always a cause for rejoicing when a new broad based publication is being launched. The very name of the Publication bespeaks its purpose and its horizons. It is very timely to again bring to the fore the great values of Indian Culture and enrich our outlook of the present day Life.

There can be no better service to mankind than to remind men of their great Heritage which is only too often quickly forgotten in the ever increasing hustle and pressures of our complex Life of today.

I wish this Publication every success in its noble task to remind us of our great Heritage.
