Gentlemen:

Since the Minerva Jahrbuch der Gelehrten Welt lists several departments of the Roerich Museum, we submit the prospectus of a new department - Urusvati, the Himalayan Research Institute of Roerich Museum, which was founded last November for the purpose of research in all the natural and archaeological sciences. With headquarters in New York City, the Institute has established its base at Naggar, Kulu, Punjab, India. A pamphlet describing its program is enclosed.

We should indeed appreciate your including this Institute in the next edition of the Minerva.

May we add that this book is in constant use at the Museum?

With cordial greetings,

Yours very truly,

URUSVATI
HIMALAYAN RESEARCH INSTITUTE

Secretary to Dr. George Roerich,
