

JOURNAL OF URUSVATI, HIMALAYAN RESEARCH INSTITUTE OF ROERICH MUSEUM

Comments

"A handsome review...which gives evidence in its articles that it includes all archaeology, and all advanced research, indeed, in its field of study."

-- Boston Evening Transcript

"I am much pleased with the initial number of the new Journal. Accept my congratulations upon its excellent form and interest."

-- H.H. Bartlett, University of Michigan

"I received with the greatest pleasure and interest...the first issue of your Journal of the Himalayan Research Institute of the Roerich Museum. Thank you very much indeed."

-- R.V.D. Magoffin, Archaeological Institute of America

"The first issue of the Urusvati Journal is most successful, both in content and technical execution. You have my sincere congratulations."

-- V.A. Pertzoff, Harvard University

"The activities in Middle Eastern exploration of Prof. Roerich and the Himalayan Research Institute are well-known. Now the Institute has undertaken a new project, in publishing a journal on Asiatic research and allied subjects. The first...is a very interesting issue."

-- Science News Letter

"The Journal of Urusvati excites a lively admiration even before read, due to its beauty of edition and illustrations. It is a great credit to the Himalayan Research Institute and the Roerich Museum Press."

-- Mme. de Vaux-Phalipau,
President, Roerich Society, Paris
President, Society of Friends of Lusace,